MOTT RUNNING STRONG

IN DELIRIUM OVER SON'S DEATH

Mrs. Landsburg in Her Ravings
Fails to Recognize Her Daughter

Calls for Dead Youth and Begs
Him to Come and Talk to Her

ALAMEDA, April 18.—Raving in delirium, Mrs. George M. Landsburg, the mother of Guy Landsburg, failed to realize that the inquest which will determine if her son was murdered or came to his death accidentally by drowning, is being held today. The stricken mother does not recognize her daughter, Miss Beulah Landsburg, who is her sole solace in her grief over the tragic death of her son, and does not know any of the people who move around her bedside.

Two trained nurses are with her constantly. Fearing for her life and reason the attending physicians are keeping a close watch over her. Moaning for her son, Mrs. Landsburg calls out, "They beat him to death. He has left me. Why did they kill him? He was not drowned."

Again, unmindful of the lapse of time, she recalls the childhood of the boy and begs him to come and talk to her.

George M. Landsburg, the father of the youth, who is in Alaska, has not received the news of his son's death. A friend stated from the Landsburg home at 1200 Bay street today that the father would not receive the news until either tomorrow or the next day. Whether or not he will return to his home here is not known by the family.

Landsburg is an owner in the Alaska Packers' Company and is superintending one of the large canneries of the company in the north.

Miss Leslie Grier, the fiancée of young Landsburg, is keeping up under the terrible strain in an effort to console the bereaved mother and sister of the boy, but she is weakening under the nervous tension. She shows the marks of grief.

Guy Landsburg Was Seen After Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—That Guy M. Landsburg visited the Midway, a resort on Pacific street, twice on the night of his disappearance, and that he appeared for the second time after the hour he had been robbed, was the testimony given before the coroner's jury at the inquest held at noon today. This was the only bit of new evidence secured.

John O'Rourke, a waiter at the Midway, testified that at 11:15 p. m. Landsburg was back again at the cafe. O'Rourke fixed the time by reason of the fact that the Salome dancer had already gone through her performance.

According to the evidence submitted by J. J. Mulvaney, Walter Jacob and Carl Martin, the friends of the young Alameda realty broker, it was 10:45 o'clock when they discovered that Landsburg was not in their party. Within that half hour, therefore, the robbery, confessed by Frank Donley and Frank Torres, the men under arrest, occurred, according to the testimony.

The confession of these defendants is to the effect that Landsburg staggered down the street after they had gone through his pockets.

William Brown, a night watchman in Chinatown, where the party visited, was also a witness. The jury, after deliberating for ten minutes, returned the following verdict:

"We find that the deceased, Guy M. Landsburg, came to his death by drowning, whether by accident, intent or otherwise."

Echo of Senatorial
Fight in New York

Democratic Legislator Said to Have Been Threatened With Death.

NEW YORK, April 18.—An interesting echo of the recent senatorial fight at Albany was heard last night during the dinner of the St. Nicholas Society at Delmonico's, when William Church Osborn, local adviser to Governor Dix, lectured in an address that one of the Democratic legislators had been threatened with death unless he changed his vote.

Mr. Osborn did not name the legislator, remarking, however, that the man had "stuck to his guns."

"He told me," said Mr. Osborn, "that his conscience would not let him vote the other way."

Miss Mary Bettencourt Slashes
Throat in Effort to Kill Herself

Had it not been for the timely arrival of Mayor Frank E. Mott's automobile at the home of Miss Mary Bettencourt, 809 Wood street, this morning, the life of the woman would not have been saved despite the frantic efforts of her relatives.

For some time past Miss Bettencourt has been afflicted with the delusion that someone was trying to kill her, and at 8 o'clock this morning decided it would be better to die by her own hands.

After preparing breakfast for her brother-in-law, M. Silvara, and her nephew, the woman went into an adjoining room and with a razor slashed herself across the throat.

Her groans attracted the attention of the neighbors, who called to the attention of the police, who arrived

HE RUNS AMUCK ON VAN NESS AVENUE

Charles T. Holbrook
Knocks Down Three Men in Delirium

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Delirious as the result of continued suffering, Charles T. Holbrook, a retired railroad man, residing at 3215 Central avenue, Alameda, ran amuck on Van Ness avenue, at 11 o'clock this morning and knocked down three men, one of whom had to be taken to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment. His aged wife, who had accompanied him from Lane Hospital, where he had given battle to nurses and doctors last night, was vainly endeavoring to restrain him and to keep by his side during the outburst. She protested against his being restrained later at the hospital. Holbrook was for twenty-five years a trusted employee of the Southern Pacific railroad, retiring a year ago. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. L. L. Dorr of this city, and has a son, Raymond Holbrook, now employed at the Oakland mole.

OPERATION RESPONSIBLE.

Seven years ago Holbrook underwent a surgical operation, since which time he has been subject to spasms. His wife has always been able to control him, however, and he never before became quite so violent as this morning.

Yesterday he was taken to Lane Hospital for treatment, but last night fought off nurses and doctors, and had to be restrained. This morning, accompanied by his wife, he left the institution. On Van Ness avenue the man ran ahead of Mrs. Holbrook and before she could do anything to stop him, knocked down J. Donovan of 438 Jersey street, and two other pedestrians. He was pursued by Officers Joy and Riehl and taken with Donovan to the hospital. The latter was treated for a lacerated wound of the lower lip.

Boxes will cost from $75 to $200 each, while the lowest priced seats in the tiers behind the boxes are $5 each, with the choice reservations $10.

HEAVY VOTE IS CAST EARLY IN ALL WARDS THROUGHOUT THE CITY

Supporters of Executive Claim Victory for Popular Candidate by Thousands; Frederickson Cheered

The primary election of local municipal officials is in progress and will continue until 6 o'clock this evening, when one of the most engrossing campaigns which the political forces of Oakland has ever known will be brought to a close.

Each side is claiming a victory and a count of the votes alone can determine as to the winners. There is, however, every reason to predict the success of Mayor Mott.

The scene at the polls in all parts of the city has been of the most active character. Each polling place has been surrounded with friends of the various candidates and there has been considerable of last-minute work done in favor of special favorites.

Workers Busy at Polls

Each of the leading candidates for the mayoralty has an organized corps of workers for him at the various precincts. Those supporting the Socialist candidate for Mayor are generally distinguishable by a small piece of red ribbon attached to the left breast of their coats. The Jackson adherents wear a white badge on the breast, on which is printed a picture of their candidate.

The adherents of Mayor Mott wear no distinguishing mark, but are generally people who are well known in their respective precincts, all of them of high standing in the community and most of them interested in the leading mercantile and industrial enterprises of the city.

The polls opened at 6 o'clock this morning, and even at that time there were voters waiting for the election of officials. The early callers, as a general thing, were electors whose business carries them to San Francisco daily, and who desired to deposit their votes before going to their daily occupation. In some instances many of these citizens managed to do their duty to the municipality almost at the expense of missing trains, because a notable feature at all the stations along the Seventh street local, as also at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, were tardy people rushing to catch the trains as they were pulling out of the several stopping places.

Commuter Vote Heavy

The commuter vote was heavier this morning than it was ever known to be at a local election. This was accounted for by the fact that there has never been a campaign which was more eagerly conducted than was the one which is about to close. Neither was there one in which greater feeling was displayed on the part of the contestants and their adherents. These facts lead to the conclusion that the vote of today will be a heavy one, more especially as the polls do not close till 6 o'clock this evening, thus affording heated commuters the opportunity of depositing their ballots before going home to supper.

In the precincts in the heart of the city the vote was not as heavy as formerly in the early hours, but there was a lively addition to it later in the day. There was a large turn-out of the merchants and manufacturers and mechanics, and these polled a very heavy vote for Mayor Mott. They did not conceal their devotion to the executive and not a few of them remained at the polls and voluntarily joined in the fight for his election.

Autos by Scores

There were hundreds of automobiles and carriages pressed into service, each

In order that his services might be available if needed in any such event, Deputy District Attorney Clark remained at his office all day. He was also prepared to aid any of the election officials in the event of their desiring information as to questions of procedure which might arise during the progress of the vote.

The headquarters of all the candidates for mayor will be open tonight and returns for the respective leaders will be received. The quarters of Mayor Mott will be at the northwest corner of Franklin and Fourteenth streets; that of Jackson at the southeast corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, and

MORPHINE RELIEVED PAIN-- THE GREAT KIDNEY REM- EDY RESTORES TO HEALTH.

For the past few years I suffered greatly from what three physicians called neuralgia of the stomach. The doctors treated me without any success and I called in a fourth doctor, who pronounced my disease gall stones. I suffered intense pain and the only relief the doctor could give me was by injections of morphine. I was so completely discouraged that I had almost given up hope when a neighbor told me about Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root. I decided to try it and began its use at once, and after taking nine bottles was completely cured, not having a spell of sickness in over two years.

I have so much confidence in Swamp-Root that I never fail to recommend it to my friends who may have kidney trouble of any kind. I am certain that Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root saved my life, why should it not do likewise to others who take it in time?

NEW AGREEMENT TO BENEFIT SHIPPERS

American-Hawaiian to Receive
Freight From Cie Generale
Transatlantic.

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company has made arrangements with the Cie Generale Transatlantique Steamship Company whereby the latter concern will handle freight between St. Nazaire, France, and ports on the Pacific Coast over the Tehuantepec route. The French freighters will make monthly calls at Puerto, Mexico, the Atlantic terminal of the Tehuantepec railroad. The freight will be taken across the isthmus and picked up by the American-Hawaiian steamers on the Pacific Coast.
Since the establishment of a freight depot in Oakland by the American-Hawaiian line, merchants of this city will receive foreign shipments in less time than heretofore. Under the old system European freight for the Pacific Coast was left at Vera Cruz and had to be transhipped by small vessels to Puerto, Mexico.

MAYOR MOTT IS SURE OF ELECTION

Heavy Vote Cast Throughout City in Early Hours; Executive's Friends Are Confident

that of the Socialists at the northeast corner of Twelfth and Webster streets.
At the Mott headquarters it was believed today that the vote cast would be in the vicinity of 20,000 and that of that number Mayor Mott would receive 8500, Jackson 5000, Booth 4500, and that Chivers and Leidecker would divide about 1000 votes between them.
At the Jackson headquarters the sentiment was that Dr. Jackson would receive 8500, Mott 7000, Booth 4500 with 500 to be divided between Chivers and Leidecker.

Expects 8000 Votes

Thomas Booth said he believed he would receive 8000 votes. Mott, he declared, would be second, but he would not estimate the number of votes the latter would receive. Jackson, he thought, would not be a good third. Booth stated that he had made his campaign at the mills, the factories and other places kinds of activities.
In the annexed district the interest in the election was greater, if that were possible, than it was in the other part of Oakland city, because this is the first time the people of that section have had an opportunity of voting for officers under municipal law. The candidacy of P. C. Frederickson, coupled with the desire on the part of the electors to have a representative of that district in the commission, brought hundreds to the polls, especially in the early hours of the morning.

Frederickson Strong

In the east end Frederickson was running with great strength, leading all competitors, with the certainty of being elected. He was running with a majority which, he declared, with the liberal vote he was sure of receiving in Oakland, would insure his election.
Wherever Frederickson went he was greeted with cheers and hundreds of people assured him that they had already voted for him and had induced others to do the same thing.
The indications were also that Gross' vote would be practically unanimous and the leading ones in the commission might be Moore, Bacous, Stachler, Holmes, Davis, and Turner. The favorites in the school director contest were Kelly, Rutherford, Chapman, Rogers, Brown and Bronner.

At Noon Hour

In precinct 37, shortly before noon, out of a registration of 350, 56 votes had been cast, the sentiment being apparently in favor of Booth for Mayor, with Frederickson strong in the lead for commissioner No. 4. At the same hour, the following figures were obtained:
Precinct 36, 107 votes out of a registration of 328, Booth for mayor, Frederickson strong.
Precinct 35, 125 votes out of a registration of 364, strongly Socialistic both for mayor and commissioner.
Precinct 34, 105 votes out of 309 registration, sentiment uncertain.
Precinct 33, 25 votes out of 90 registration, Jackson mayor, Frederickson for commissioner.
Precinct 32, 89 votes out of registration of 232, Jackson and Mott about equal, Frederickson for commissioner.
Precinct 31, 33 votes out of registration of 223, Frederickson strong, uncertain for mayor.
Precinct 30, 83 votes out of registration of 236, uncertain.
Precinct 29, 104 votes out of registration of 237, Frederickson strong, Mott for mayor.

Fruitvale for Mott

In the seventh ward in East Fruitvale the early morning vote was heavier than expected, most of the workers casting their ballots before going to work. The present indication is that Mayor Frank K. Mott, candidate for re-election, and P. C. Frederickson, candidate for commissioner No. 4 are well in the lead of their adversaries. With the exception of precinct 111, Thomas Booth, the Socialist candidate for mayor, is running weak. Up to 11 a. m. the figures in the voting were as follows:
Precinct 102—110 votes cast out of 240 registered.
Precinct 103—132 votes cast out of 451 registered.
Precinct 104—155 votes out of 523 registered.
Precinct 105—125 votes cast out of 275 registered.

Light in West

In the western part of the city the voting was especially light, much more so than has been noted for many years. This section comprises parts of the Third, Fourth and Sixth wards, and while there were plenty of workers at the polls, the vote failed to compare with the average cast at the local elections.

The eleven precincts, the most of which were scattered along Eleventh street, the total vote at 1 o'clock this afternoon was only 990, the heaviest vote being 114, which was cast at the Fifty-third precinct in Seventh street, between Chestnut and Linden.

There is no doubt, however, but that there will be a great increase in this vote late this afternoon, and especially during the hours before the closing of the polls, because many of the men working in the yards and shops of the Western and Southern Pacific and other places of industry in the western part of the city did not vote this morning before going to work. The custom heretofore has been on the part of their employers to allow them a couple of hours off in the afternoon for the purpose of depositing their ballot.

Frederickson Boosters

Among the workers at the polls was noticed quite a number of representatives of P. C. Frederickson, who claim that he, although residing in the extreme eastern section of Oakland, is receiving a considerable number of votes. The men working for Mayor Mott and

Singing His Way to New York

Percy Denton at the Bell Theater This Week Starts on a Very Unique Trip as the Result of a Wager.

One of the most unique wagers made in a long time in the history of theatricals is that made by the proprietor of a well known San Francisco against the ability of Percy Denton, a prominent minstrel and vaudeville performer. The idea started in the manner of a bet, but after the hotel man had offered Mr. Denton the sum of $2500 if he would sing his way to New York from Prison under the following conditions: The terms of the wager make it impossible to beg, borrow or steal or to solicit an engagement in any theater or other place of amusement, and to leave San Francisco without a cent and arrive in New York three months from the time that he starts from the Oakland ferry. He must not accept a free train or car ride, must not eat, drink, sleep or in any way make the trip unless he does it with his own earnings, or to be more correct, the earnings of his voice, for, as he says, "Actors never work."
As soon as the Pan-Pacific booster committee heard of the wager they immediately sent for Denton and made him the offer to furnish his outfit for the trip, and as nothing in the agreement covered that point, he was only too glad to accept the same, as it consisted of two suits of khaki with "Pan-Pacific Exposition, 1911," in bold letters on the front, the official stamp of approval as an authorized booster for the great year that every Californian is looking forward to. Manager Gohn of the Bell theater offered Denton a week's engagement, and, of course, Mr. Denton has accepted, and he is giving one of the big acts at this week's show. He is featuring a typical western song, "The Land of the Golden West," and showing a profusion of beautiful slides on the curtain, all descriptive of California. Of course, he is not able to remain a week in every city that he visits, according to the agreement, will allow him but one of these engagements at his starting point.

DIES WHEN ENGINE HITS ROAD ROLLER

Frank H. Gruer Killed in Collision Near Stege Yesterday Afternoon.

Engine 542, drawing a northbound passenger train, collided with a thirty-ton steam roller at Stege late yesterday, killing Frank H. Gruer, 380 East Twentieth street, Oakland, engineer of the road machine. The pilot of the engine was broken, but the locomotive remained on the track.

The accident occurred shortly before 4 o'clock at the crossing of the Hutchinson Company's quarry road over the Santa Fe tracks. Gruer was taking the roller to the quarry and, not noticing the approach of the train, he started to take his cumbersome machine across the rails.

The pilot of the engine struck the steam roller before Gruer had time to jump. He fell beneath the machine and was so badly crushed that he died a few moments after the accident. The huge steam roller toppled over on its side on the track, where it lay obstructing traffic. Gruer's body was removed to the morgue at Richmond.

SAVED SELF AND DAUGHTER

Mattoon, Ill.—"Will you allow me for the benefit of others who may be in the same condition as I was to make a statement in this paper.

"I was in very poor health for years, was weak, ailing and all run-down, and had lost in weight until I only weighed ninety pounds. I had been under a physician's care, without any benefit, for so long I was discouraged.

About a year ago I decided to try a tonic called Vinol, concerning which I had heard many favorable reports. I commenced to gain, and increased in weight until I now weigh 127 pounds, am in perfect health and never felt better in my life.

Then, my daughter, who lived in Martineville, Ind., was an invalid, and no encouragement was held out for her recovery. After my experience with Vinol we went to Martineville and brought her to Mattoon, as she was helpless. When we got her here I put her on Vinol, with the same good results from its use which I had—she gained in weight, and today she is well and strong and feels better than she ever did in her life.

Mrs. O. M. Watrous. (We guarantee this letter to be genuine.)

We have for years recommended Vinol as a grand tonic and body-builder, and every year we gain more and more faith in its wonderful virtues. It is certainly the best and simplest tonic restorative we know of. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

YOUTH CONFESSES WHOLESALE LOOTING

Stanford Davis Admits Robbing Safe For Last Four Months.

CAUGHT IN ACT BY ONE OF HIS VICTIMS

Mysterious Thievery Leads Partners in Firm to Suspect Each Other.

Systematic looting of a safe to which he had learned the combination while employed by the owners was put to a stop last night when Stanford Davis, a 17-year-old boy, was captured in the market conducted by Korn & Newman at Sixth and Clay streets. The capture was effected by I. Korn, one of the partners, who had lain in wait in the store.

That he had been engaged in a systematic plunder of the safe, making seven night visits to the butcher store since last January, when he was discharged from the firm, was the confession made by Davis to Captain of Detectives Walter J. Petersen this morning. He has used the money he has stolen to carouse and go on "joy rides."

A pretty girl who has been an attendant in a local shooting gallery is said to have been his companion in his life of gaily on the funds unwillingly provided by Korn & Newman.

HELD BY POLICE.

Davis, who resides at 770 Lydia street, has not been charged, but it is probable that a warrant will be sworn out today charging him with burglary. He is being held pending further investigation of the case.

According to I. Korn, one of the partners in the firm, the losses since January have amounted to over $1500. Young Davis told Captain Petersen that he did not know how much he had taken, but that every time he needed money he went to the safe and took what he needed.

Ingress to the building was gained through a rear door to the basement. While he was employed in the butcher shop Davis assisted in nailing down a trap door from the basement to the store. He knew where the trap door came through and carefully pounded them back and pried open the trap door. After the first visit he left the door so that he could use it easily thereafter.

It became a matter of the greatest ease for him to walk down to the store and load up his pockets with silver and gold coins. He knew the combination of the safe, and the customs of the store, so the other would choose the days when the cash drawer in the safe would contain the most money.

SUSPECT EACH OTHER.

The mysterious disappearance of the money, without any indications that the store had been visited by burglars, and the rigid watch exercised over the employees at last led the two partners to suspect each other of quietly "lapping" the till. Finally, Korn decided that he must settle the matter one way or the other, and after notifying the police of his intention, secreted himself in the store last night.

He was amazed to see the trap door in the floor, which he supposed was securely nailed down, rise easily and silently, and a man enter the store. The dark figure went with unhesitating steps to the safe, handled the combination and began to fill his pockets with money. Then Korn, who was armed, jumped out and placed him under arrest. The youth submitted without question, and at the police station confessed to the crime.

DEBTS SHOWN BY MISSION BOARDS

Societies in Annual Report Disclose Many Thousand Dollars Deficit.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Four of the great missionary societies, three with headquarters in this city and one in Boston, have just closed their fiscal year. The Presbyterian board of foreign missions had receipts of $1,589,000 last year, an advance of nearly $150,000 over 1910, but of this sum $100,000 came from legacies. The Presbyterian board of home missions had receipts last year of $1,055,000, a falling off of $55,000. Its expenditures were $1,192,000, so there is a shortage of $135,000.

The two Baptist boards, home and foreign, expending approximately $2,000,000, show no increase. The home interest end the year with a shortage of $25,000, and the foreign society is $62,500 in debt.

NIEHAUS INSANE OVER RELIGION, SAYS BROTHER

Spiritualism Plays Leading Part in Testimony Over $85,000 of Dead Resident in Berkeley

When Judge Everett J. Brown adjourned the probate department of the Superior Court last evening the cross-examination of Ernest Niehaus in the contest of Edward H. A. Niehaus, his nephew, for a son's share of the $85,000 estate of Edward F. Niehaus of Berkeley, brother of the witness, had not been finished, and when he hearing is resumed tomorrow morning he will go on the stand again. The case was set over for a day on account of the press of other probate matters. The witness to follow Ernest Niehaus will be his wife, who is the sister of Mrs. Mathilda Niehaus, widow of Edward F. Niehaus, and mother of the contesting son, the Niehaus brothers having married sisters.

Ernest Niehaus, who testified that his dead brother was insane over religion, and his wife is supporting the claim of their nephew to part of his father's estate, because they are convinced that when Edward F. Niehaus made his will leaving his son but $100 and giving the rest of his estate to his wife, he was dominated by Mathilda Niehaus, the widow, through the medium of spiritualism.

During his testimony Ernest Niehaus unfolded an unusual story of how spiritualism had destroyed business judgment and paternal love when his dead brother took up the study of the occult upon the solicitation of Mathilda Niehaus, her object in the premises, according to the witness, being to have the decedent's mind poisoned against his son to accomplish his disinherence. The witness said that the dead furniture manufacturer was completely dominated by his wife in the disposition of his estate, and that after his brother for years had professed no religious faith Mrs. Niehaus when valiantly pushed to take up the study of spiritualism, clairvoyance and kindred mysticisms.

FLEW INTO RAGE, SAYS WITNESS.

After going deep into these subjects, the witness testified, Edward F. Niehaus grew to be suspicious and superstitious. Then his son married a woman of a religious faith toward which Mathilda Niehaus, his mother, was particularly bitter, and this prompted the decedent to become doubly resentful toward all creeds and churches excepting his own. The witness told the jury that his brother admitted this to him on several occasions immediately prior to the time he made his will, and that during a conference between them regarding his will Edward F. Niehaus told him that every time he attended a spiritualistic seance three visions which placed his son in a very bad light confronted him. One of the visions showed a minister of the church to which his objectionable daughter-in-law belonged suavely prevailing upon young Niehaus to marry the girl, another showed the pastor performing the marriage ceremony and the third showed the son robbing his father of his property and money, and turning them over to his wife, who in turn passed them back to the minister, who stood directly behind the young couple. The witness said that he pleaded with his brother not to accept these mediums' tricks as truth, but whenever he made these appeals the aged manufacturer would fly into fits of terrible rage, denounce his son and declare that the witness was an "unbeliever" and had no right to intercede in the young man's behalf.

GOING INTO RAGE, SAYS WITNESS.

Going still further into what he declared was the religious fanaticism of his deceased brother, the witness testified that Edward F. Niehaus was also a believer in the transmigration of the soul, which is one of the ancient and pet theories of the Chinese. In this connection the witness testified that his brother believed that when death came and the soul broke its material bonds it entered the body of another person carrying with it all the burdens, sorrows and evils it was afflicted with during the life of the body it had left.

OPPOSED TO HANGING.

The decedent was convinced that the spirit of some evil person had taken possession of his son, said the witness, and told him that as this was a fact young Niehaus ceased to be his son and heir. To illustrate this belief more clearly Ernest Niehaus told the jury that his brother was bitterly opposed to capital punishment because the soul of the person executed simply entered the body of another individual and proceeded to convert him into a murderer.

During this same proceeding Ernest Niehaus testified that the witness said that his brother was a criminal and other evil-doers were simply the victims of the evil souls of those who had gone before, and therefore not responsible for their acts. The witness said he was convinced that his brother was simply insane over religion.

1000 CHILDREN IN DETENTION HOME

Average Monthly Attendance Has Been 43 Since Opening of Institution.

The number of children received into the Detention Home of the Juvenile Court on Nineteenth street, passed the 1000 mark yesterday. As the Detention Home was opened on June 7, 1909, this fixes the average monthly attendance of children as 43, and the yearly attendance as 519. The Detention Home is used for the detention of certain classes of children, simply until their problems are disposed of in the Juvenile Court, and the average stay is about six days.

The lowest daily attendance at the Detention Home has been 2; the highest 23. There are many more boys than girls received. The average cost a meal is 13 cents.

DOUBLE ATTEMPT MADE TO MURDER

Gang of Italian Laborers Has Two Narrow Escapes From Death.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 18.—News was received here today of the second attempt within two days to murder a crowd of Italian railroad laborers employed by the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company at Grove, Ill.

Early Sunday morning a stick of dynamite was placed under a car in which they were sleeping and the explosion badly shattered the car. At the same hour Monday morning there was another explosion which threw men from their beds, broke windowglass and did other damage.

It is believed a band of Greek railroad laborers is responsible for the explosion.

When a large delegation of teachers, school officials, members of boards of education and representatives from the state university departed from the conference on the Williams-Boynton bill today they carried with them the best encouragement and also nothing which would indicate what his ultimate decision would be.

Governor Johnson declared that he is in hearty sympathy with the idea of pensioning teachers, and in fact he predicted that within ten days this state pension bill its employees and extend the pension to aged, but he doubted that at this time this state is ready to embark upon any pension scheme from a purely financial point.

County government acts affecting the Tulare, Glenn and Colusa counties were signed today by Governor Johnson. The governor has been devoting his time for the last two days hearing arguments on big bills and has not had an opportunity to sign many measures.

FATE OF PENSION BILL IN DOUBT

Governor in Favor of Retiring Teachers, But Wary of Finances.

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—Governor Johnson declared his sentiment in hearty accord with the teachers' pension bill which is before him for approval, but from the financial standpoint and from the standpoint of according pensions to school teachers and not to others, the governor is in doubt. FLAMES ILLUMINE GREAT WHITE WAY

New York City Has Two $100,000 Conflagrations at the Same Hour Today.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Two serious fires broke out here today. The four upper floors of a six-story loft building just behind the Broadway Central Hotel burst into flames at 1 o'clock. Two hundred guests of the hotel tumbled from their beds and fled to the lobby in a panic.

Broadway was brilliantly lighted for half a mile north and south. Fire Chief Croker led the fight against the flames and confined them to the loft building, where the loss was estimated at $100,000.

While the downtown firemen were busy with this blaze three alarms were turned in uptown for a water main fire in the boathouse of a Harlem houseboat. The fire was extinguished by the fire department, where the grandstands of the New York Nationals were destroyed last week. The fire spread to two other boathouses and destroyed many structures, causing a loss of $100,000.

Lives and Property of Foreigners in Danger; Situation Is Worse.

PARIS, April 17.—In consequence of the anarchistic conditions in Morocco, France will reinforce her troops already there by sending thither immediately three battalions selected from the colonial army. The decision of the government to dispatch French reinforcements is due to the fact that the internal situation of Morocco is growing steadily worse. Several tribes hitherto faithful to Sultan Mulai Hafid have thrown their lot with the French. The position in Fez including the matter of lives and property of foreigners is considered critical.

OFFICIAL COUNT OF VOTES SHOWS NO CHANGE

Tie on Proposed Amendment Granting Liquor Licenses Remains the Same.

NEW OFFICIALS TAKE THE OATH OF OFFICE

"Let the People Rule," Says Mayor Noy Upon Resuming Office.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—The official canvass of the votes polled at the municipal election by the City Council last night resulted in no change in the totals. The tie vote on the proposed amendment to allow two free liquor licenses for clubs in the city remained unchanged by the official count.

Mayor W. H. Noy was sworn into office as the chief executive of the city by City Clerk F. E. Browning, following the count. Following are the other city officials who took the oath of office after him:

City Treasurer and Tax Collector Oswald Lubbock, City Auditor and Assessor Fred J. Croll, Councilmen E. B. Bullock, Alfred Morgenstern, E. J. Probst, William Hammond Jr., Peter Christensen.

Councilman Clark Spence then moved that Councilman E. B. Bullock be re-elected to serve as president of the City Council. The vote taken by roll call was unanimous. The following finance committee was selected by the council: E. B. Bullock, chairman; Peter Christensen and Clark Spence, after which President Bullock appointed the following committees:

COMMITTEES.
Police, fire and water—John Walker, chairman; F. L. Probst, Streets, sewers and wharves—F. L. Krumb, chairman; J. Walker and P. Christensen, Public utilities—William Hammond Jr., chairman; J. Walker, A. L. Morgenstern, Printing and advertising—E. D. Ellis, chairman; W. Hammond Jr., Clark Spence.

Judiciary—E. J. Probst, chairman; W. Hammond Jr., E. D. Ellis, Finance—Clark Spence, chairman; F. L. Krumb, E. D. Ellis, Councilman Morgenstern, the new member of the board, called upon Mayor Noy for a few remarks upon his resuming office for the second term.

Mayor Noy spoke as follows:

PEACE TO PREVAIL.

"While I have been watching the few officials standing before the city clerk pleading themselves to fulfill the duties of their office according to the law of the State and of the city, I brought to mind something of the best intentions. They are bound to work in peace and harmony, to avoid strife and to advocate that alone which is for the best interests of the community. In their return to office, may they be crowned with laurels and honored with the respect of the council for the next two years. We need men who are well versed in the duties of this office. One of the first improvements which the city council has already launched is the construction of new streets, parks, and the Lincoln Avenue. We will advocate improvements and we ask the press to assist us as we ask the citizens to interest themselves in all issues before the body. I desire to express my appreciation and that of the council for the interest the citizens have taken in this election. We want their support at all times and we will welcome them and their suggestions here at any and all meetings of this council. The voters of the city have conferred the greatest honor which could be bestowed upon me, and I thank them. I will try to make good and let the people rule."

MORGENSTERN SPEAKS.

Councilman Morgenstern addressed the council and citizens as follows:

"There have been some comments made regarding my eligibility to this office. When the time comes and it is proven that I am not entitled to this seat, I want to give it up. I am not trying to break in with any pretense. I have never been legally and rightfully elected. I do not want the office. I want to tender my appreciation to the voters of Alameda for the generous commitment paid in electing me to office. I will abide by my oath taken here tonight. I will work for the best interests of the city at large, and for a certain ward or portion. I have no axe to grind, and I have made no pledges. I can be fearless and I will do all that may conscience dictate."

Morgenstern closed his remarks with praise for J. J. Stachler, who he defeated for the office of councilman at large, and former Councilman Bert Fisher, whom he succeeds.

Councilman William Hammond Jr. spoke as follows:

"I agree with Councilman Morgenstern. No matter what happens, the members of this board have to be on one side of the fence. They can not straddle it. The citizens appreciate this and the council has their support. One of the greatest improvements I have in mind is the development of the public utility. The Lincoln developed portion of the city is worth as much as the remainder of Alameda. What we need there is transportation facilities, and I ask the voters to get behind any movement that will bring traffic facilities to this part of the city."

PRaises Commission.

"We have in our electricity commission the most valuable asset the city possesses, and this commission is entitled to the hearty co-operation of the citizens. Street lighting has become an art, and Alameda will soon have the best illuminated streets of any city in the State."

Short remarks were made by the other officials who took the oath of office last night.

The city council will meet in regular session tonight.

SANE FOURTH ORDINANCE PASSES HOPKINS STREET FRANCHISE GIVEN

Final Passage of Ordinance Had at City Council Meeting.

Final passage of an ordinance granting to the Oakland Traction Company a franchise on a short line in Hopkins street from Thirty-sixth avenue to Fruitvale avenue was the order of business last night and on the recommendation of the railroad committee the bill was carried by the council. The grant is for about 1300 ft. of track to permit a cut-off, which will materially shorten the line and will carry the road past the Alameda, thus giving transportation facilities to the institution. It is a grant of minor importance.

PEDDLER CAUGHT STEALING 'SPUDS'

Alonzo Martin Captured in Act of Wholesale Theft.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Caught in the act of stealing potatoes from a warehouse at Front and Broadway streets, at 7:30 this morning, Alonzo Martin, a peddler, was arrested by Policeman Holmes on complaint of Harry B. Barbee, the manager, and charged with grand larceny. For a month past stock has been missed from the place and a secret investigation convinced Barbee that thieves were at work. Accordingly he decided to keep watch on the warehouse from 7 o'clock this morning, instead of reaching his office at 9 a. m., as usual.

He had scarcely taken position in a place of concealment before a wagon driven by Martin pulled up in front of a chute and twenty sacks of potatoes were shot down to him. As the peddler was driving off Barbee called upon him to halt and placed him under arrest. He then telephoned to the police and turned him over to Officer Holmes. An investigation is now being conducted by Detective Kelly and Campbell, together with Barbee, to determine which one of the latter's employees was standing in with the thief.

Law Passes to Print; Will Work to Lower Insurance Rates.

The "sane Fourth of July" ordinance which has been pending before the city council for many months was finally passed to print last night, and Oakland will be enrolled among those cities of the United States which take an intelligent view of the national celebration and believe in protecting children from injury and the residences and property from damage.

As a result of the passage of the ordinance, the Underwriters' Association has promised that when the reduction in rates is under consideration in Oakland the insurance will be taken into consideration as a factor in the rate of decreasing the insurance rates for this city. The ordinance was passed to print on the recommendation of the ordinance and judiciary committee.

BAR FIREWORKS.

By terms of the bill no fireworks or fireworks may be sold within the city of Oakland, and none may be discharged. The discharge of firearms, excepting in shooting galleries, or by police in the discharge of their duties, or in exterminating animals, is absolutely prohibited. The ordinance is one of the most stringent of its kind and should operate as a protection to life and property.

Considerable credit is given the newspaper, and especially the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, for the stand they have taken in favor of a sane Fourth of July. Publicity has been given to the costly fires and to the grave accidents which cities without this protection pay annually, as the penalty of unrestricted license in the celebration of the nation's natal day.

Credit was also given to the large number of women's clubs and other organizations which have agitated for a sane Fourth of July. Several committees representing the Child's Welfare League, the Equal Suffrage League and a number of other clubs have appeared before the council at various times to urge the passage of such an ordinance.

MUNICIPAL DISPLAY.

The present ordinance makes but one exception in the general prohibition of fireworks and firecrackers. A display of fireworks, conducted directly under the auspices and supervision of the municipality, with adequate care for the protection of life and property, is permitted. Such a display could be held on Lake Merritt, properly authorized by the municipality, and provided with adequate safeguards.

Agitation for an ordinance prohibiting the use of fireworks was started about one year ago. An ordinance similar to the one passed last night was presented in council and after being taken up in committee and being thrashed out several times, was passed by the council by one vote at a midnight session in which Councilman Harold E. Martland was induced to vote by being sent for and compelled to leave his couch to come to the council chamber in pajamas and slippers and dressing gown. This ordinance was passed at the last meeting of last June, and was then submitted to Mayor Frank K. Mott.

Mayor Mott did not consider that sufficient notice had been given the merchants dealing in fireworks, or to the general citizenry, and refused to sign the ordinance without his signature to the council. At the time a large number of merchants had laid in large stocks of goods in preparation for the celebration and a grave injustice would have been done to have made the sale illegal at that time. But few accidents marked the last Independence Day celebration in Oakland, and Mayor Mott has been generally praised for his courage in handling this ordinance as he did, as feeling was running high on the subject at the time.

BAND BOYS WILL GIVE GRAND BALL

Melrose Musicians Will March Through Streets Prior to Big Affair.

MELROSE, April 18.—Next Friday evening, April 21, the members of the John C. Fremont School band, which was recently taken over by the members of the Melrose Improvement Club, will give a benefit dance and an entertainment in the Melrose Central Hall. Before the time set for the dance the boys will march and play music through the streets of Melrose.

This band was first started for the school and new uniforms and instruments were purchased for them. About six months ago, however, for some mysterious reason, the leaders of the movement dropped out and the boys were left to shift for themselves. The members of this club intend to make it one of the finest organizations in the county.

Pleasanton Scene of Hostilities Against Squirrels and Rats.

PLEASANTON, April 18.—Farmers and ranchers of Pleasanton and the surrounding country are beginning to comply with the state law recently adopted, which orders that all ranchers assist in the extermination of rodents.

Besides laying out large quantities of poison the farmers and landowners have set many traps over the hills. Within a few months they look for the extermination of the pests which have been doing so much damage to their crops and are liable to carry the dreaded bubonic plague around with them.

ST. JOSEPH'S TOOK FIRST OF SEASON

Fruitvale Sodality Wins Close Ball Game With Moss Beach Nine.

FRUITVALE, April 18.—The reorganized team of St. Joseph's Sodality, now known as the Fruitvale St. Josephs, took their opening game of the season by defeating the fast Moss Beach team of San Francisco by a score of 3 to 1. The Moss Beach team consisted chiefly of graduates of the Santa Clara College. Before the game the Sodality had been rendered many popular airs and during the game urged their boys to victory by selections from various operas.

The game was a stubborn one from the start to the finish, but the Fruitvale boys showed superior strength by pulling away from their opponents by the run. From then on the game was nip and tuck to the last inning.

The score showed at the end of the ninth inning the following averages:

St. Joseph's..... R. H. E.
Moss Beach..... 1 5 0

BANQUET TO CLEVER ATHLETES

Noted Educator and Athletes Given Big Ovation at Saddle Rock.

The splendid banquet room at Kisch's cafe, known as the Saddle Rock, last night was a testimonial in honor of the departure of Rev. Bro. Z. Joseph of St. Mary's College and the subsequent departure of three leading baseball stars of the St. Mary's team, was a brilliant affair.

Brother Joseph will tour Europe, leaving May 1.

Brother Joseph will be succeeded as manager of the Phoenix team by the Rev. Bro. Vantassian. This announcement was made last night at the final banquet of the Phoenix baseball team, held in honor of Pitcher "Tiny" Leonard, first baseman Eddie Wilkinson and outfielder Norman Lynch, all of whom left last night for New York. Leonard will join the Philadelphia Athletics, while Wilkinson and Lynch will go to Hal Chase's New York Americans.

The announcement that Brother Joseph will go to Europe comes as a distinct surprise to his friends. Brother Joseph has been prefect of athletics at St. Mary's for the past six years and during that time has assumed the management of the Phoenix team.

Brother Vantassian, who will succeed Brother Joseph, has been a member of the faculty of the Oakland college for nine months.

The usual elegant service at the Saddle Rock was the talk of the evening. Everything was conducted with dispatch and satisfaction. So many banquets have been held at this place of late that it is almost known as the banqueting place of Oakland.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

"A straight line is the shortest distance between two points."

The "straight line" of publicity is the newspaper.

Getting your business story into the newspaper need be a matter of only a few hours, if speed is a desideratum. The newspaper gets to the people even more quickly. That has gotten down to a matter of minutes and seconds.

No other publicity medium is so general, so universally, so thoroughly far-reaching.

No other medium is so effective. No other medium is so economical.

Can you imagine any more suitable medium for your advertising than in the very columns you peruse with interest every evening?

MEXICAN AND U.S. TROOPS ON LINE

Large Patrols of Both Nations Watch for Contraband of War.

AGUA PRIETA, April 18.—Arrangements are being completed for reorganizing the force of the Mexican customs house. Julian Garcia, chief of the customs guard on the Mexican side, was killed in the battle last Thursday when Red Lopez took the town. The other members of the customs force fled to the American side, where they remained until Colonel Diaz and his troops entered the city.

The international line was still strictly guarded today by both the Mexican federal army patrol and the American soldiers. A Mexican officer stated that the federal army started toward Agua Prieta originally with three machine guns. One of these was left with a column to guard a pass in the mountains to the west of Agua Prieta, to prevent a possible cutting off of their line of retreat. Two other machine guns were brought forward for action. One of these was disabled early in the action and could not be repaired until late in the evening. The other was used at intervals during the fight.

The American customs house shows the effect of the fire from the federal army when it attacked the rebel trenches east of Agua Prieta. One bullet entered the door, passed through several partitions and passed on out. Many other missiles struck the building, and the porch on the east side was peppered with lead.

OLD HOMES ARE SACRIFICED

Large Crowd Sees Fine Property Go Under Hammer.

Last Saturday at 2 p. m. some of the fine home sites of Oakland were victims of the auctioneer's hammer.

At the real estate auction of fine property held at the auction room of J. A. Munro & Co., at Eleventh and Clay streets, a spirited auction sale of three fine pieces of property were sold by order of the public administrator. Old residents of Oakland remember the weekly auction sales held by one of the oldest real estate brokers in the state, who made his sales rooms famous at Eighth and Broadway for years, but never has any previous sale shown any more enthusiasm.

Many other such events are scheduled by the Munro company for this summer.

PRETTY CASHIER ACCUSED OF THEFT

Frances M. Peters Charged With Embezzling the Hospital Funds.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Two warrants charging felony embezzlement were issued this morning for the arrest of Miss Frances M. Peters, a pretty cashier, formerly employed at Adler's sanitarium. Yesterday an order to show cause why the warrants should not be issued was made, and Miss Peters appeared before the bond and warrant clerk today.

She was accused of taking $323 or April 11 and $35 on February 23. She claimed, however, that the books were irregularly kept, and that she had not taken anything that did not belong to her. She was allowed to go, but subsequently Judge Weller signed the warrants, the attorneys for the sanitarium claiming that when paying money to doctors the young woman entered a larger amount on the books than was actually given out.

F. M. SMITH ON HIS WAY HOME

President of United Properties in Conference With Eastern Representative.

F. M. Smith, president of the United Properties Company, will arrive in this city Wednesday from the East, where he has been for the last six weeks. Mrs. Smith will accompany him home.

W. R. Alberger, a director of the company, and Dennis Seales, Smith's confidential secretary and also a director, were in the East during Smith's stay there. They were in conference with C. B. Zabriske, New York representative of the United Properties. Nothing has been given out concerning the conference, either the nature of the business on hand or the result.

There is already a widely prevalent belief that Speaker Champ Clark falls to size up to his new job.—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

A prudent mother is always on the watch for symptoms of worms in her children. Pale faces, lack of interest in play, and peevishness are the signs for WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. A few doses of this excellent remedy puts an end to the worms, and the child soon acts naturally. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store, Tenth and Washington streets.

Closure of the Webster-Street Bridge.

The protest lodged with the Board of Supervisors against the closure of the Webster street drawbridge and the snail-like progress which the contractor is making the repairs necessary to restore it to traffic is unquestionably justified. Since March 25 the street car and wheeled road traffic across the bridge between Alameda and Oakland has been suspended. The people traveling between the two cities are put to the serious inconvenience of being compelled to walk nearly a half mile to cover the broken link in the Traction Company's chain of street railway service, and, at the rate at which the contractor is carrying on the work, the resumption of regular traffic over the bridge will not be possible for months to come.

Present conditions at the bridge are intolerable. It is the main avenue of communication between the two cities. The closure of the bridge is seriously affecting the trade of both communities. Oakland merchants have lost thousands of dollars' worth of trade since the blockade was established. They are naturally complaining strongly against the interference with their business and are demanding relief.

There is but one remedy. The contractor should be required to hasten the repairing of the bridge. The repairs were urgent and so is their completion. In any urgent private improvement of a similar nature it would be vigorously pushed ahead, a working force being employed night and day to avoid an hour's delay in its completion. That is what should be done by the Webster street bridge contractor. There is nothing to prevent him from doubling his force and keeping the work moving without the loss of any time through the twenty-four hours of each day. If he won't do so voluntarily, he should be forced to do it by official pressure, assuming that it can be lawfully applied. At all events, as an inducement to the contractor to double his working force and hastening the completion of the repairs, by carrying on the work through the night as well as during the day, the Supervisors will be justified in making a reasonable allowance to him to cover the extra cost involved in night work. Something must be done to hurry up the work and that quickly. The present inconvenience to communication between the two cities and the interference with their commerce cannot be suffered to continue much longer. The situation is one evidently requiring the application of drastic measures in order to obtain relief.

Oakland Sporting Monopolies.

Oakland and Alameda have acquired a practical monopoly of two healthful outdoor athletic sports among the cities of San Francisco bay—namely, rowing and the English game of cricket. On rowing these two east-bay cities have an absolute and incontestable monopoly. None other of the bay cities possesses an adaptable waterway for rowing races. Oakland harbor is the only place along the bay shore in which a suitable course, in perfectly smooth water, protected from the winds from every quarter, and from both shores of which an unobstructed view of a rowing race, from start to finish, may be obtained by spectators. It is, moreover, one of the few places in the world where a three-mile perfectly straight unruffled rowing course exists.

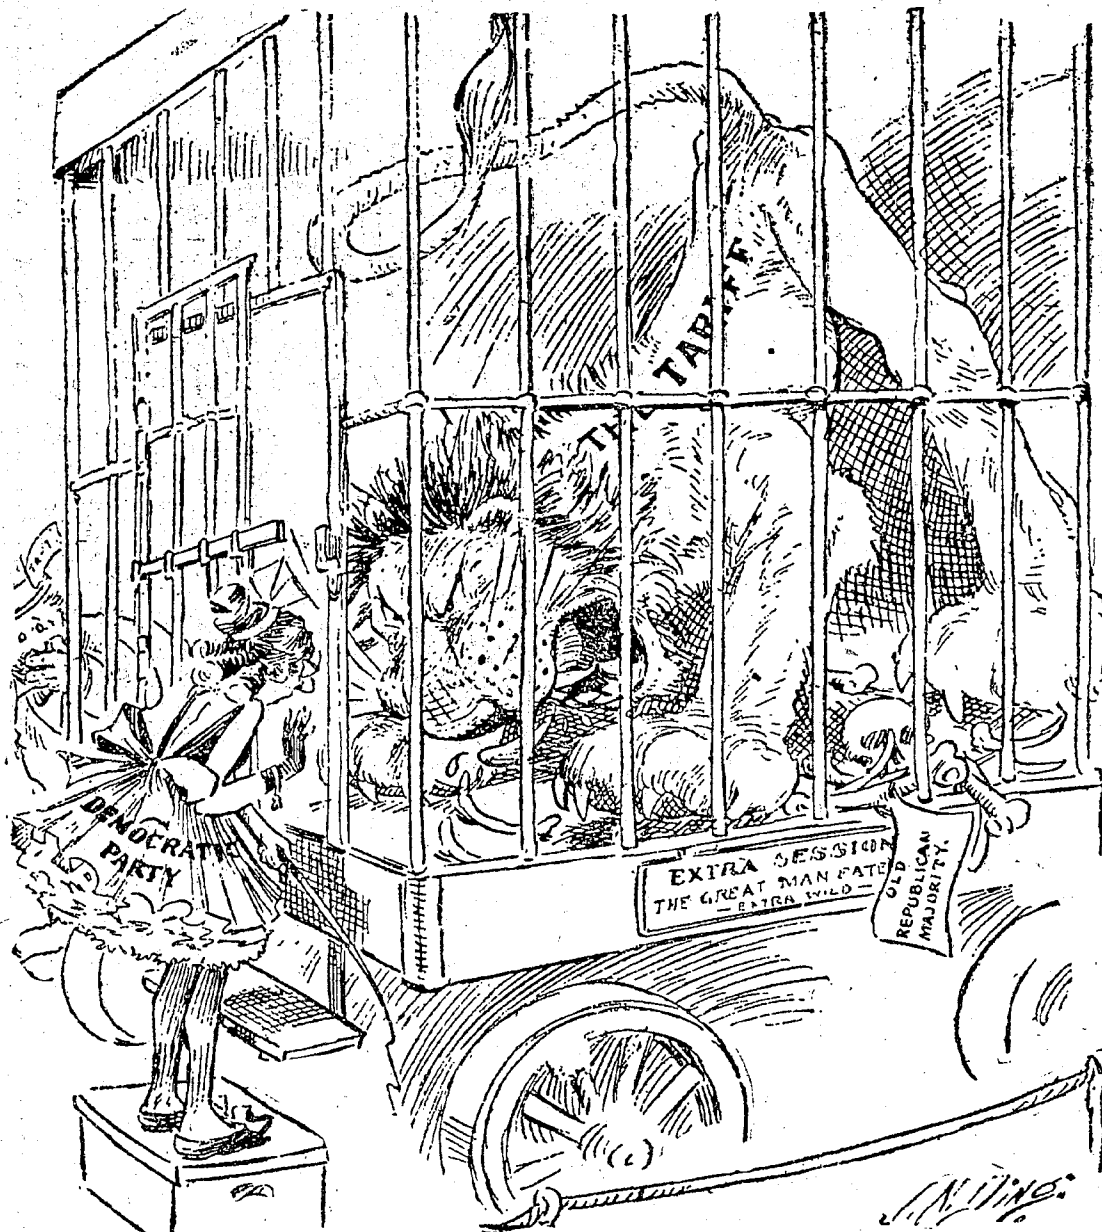

The intercollegiate rowing races contested last Saturday was a notable exemplification of Oakland harbor's exceptional superiority as a rowing course. They were fought out over absolutely smooth waters—as smooth practically as the face of a mirror. Never a rowing race was contested on the San Francisco water front at which the water conditions were satisfactory to the crews of the frail, shallow shells engaged nor to the spectators lining the ends of the wharves fronting on the course and interested in the result. On that side of the bay there is no point of vantage from which a boat race can be observed by spectators from start to finish; nor is there ever a time when the boat crews can rely on having smooth water on the course. Rowing races have been repeatedly tried there and given no satisfaction. The experiences of the boat crews and spectators at Saturday's rowing regatta were instructive and edifying and made a lasting impression on both. They have added to Oakland harbor's fame, for the status of a perfectly land-locked harbor which has a commercial frontage of practically thirteen or fourteen miles in length, superior vastly to that which is possessed by the river Clyde in Scotland, which is recognized the world over as one of the most important commercial streams in the world, has been brought conspicuously to the notice of shipowners and shipping men abroad, who study the situation and read between the lines of an intercollegiate sporting event a statement of conditions which directly concerns their commercial interests.

The English game of cricket is a sport of comparatively small interest to Americans interested in outdoor sports. But the fact that after two or three years' experience the California Cricket Association has been compelled to abandon the grounds allotted to it by the commission in Golden Gate Park, because of the frequency of foggy weather and the intense cold of the west winds which sweep in from the ocean and that the schedule of this summer's cup matches have been restricted to this side of the bay is a big advertisement to the superior climate of the east-bay shore. All of the matches will be played this season in Alameda, where two grounds have been secured for the purpose, the old field at Webster street and Railroad avenue and another at the southern end of Oak street.

Auto racing is also one of the outdoor sports monopolized on this side of the bay, where all of such events have in the past been held. That fact is a valuable asset to Alameda county and to Oakland, San Leandro and Hayward, each of which is interested in the auto racing course; but in the transmission abroad of all these auto racing events, San Francisco has received the whole credit of being the scene of their occurrence, and derived the benefit from the advertised association, although from fifteen to twenty miles away from the course. Whatever value attaches abroad to the telegraphic reports of sporting events of world-wide interest which take place on this side of the bay and in Oakland or its suburbs, Oakland's promotion and commercial organizations should insist upon it that the senders of such reports should date-line them from this city and not from San Francisco. In all probability the reports sent east of the intercollegiate rowing regatta of last Saturday were dated so as to appear as if the event had occurred in San Francisco instead of in Oakland harbor. Every tub should stand on its own bottom.

On April 23 the French International Exposition at Roubaix will be officially opened. The town of Roubaix is the most important textile center in France. The chief exhibits will pertain to the wool industry for which Roubaix is particularly noted, and all of the leading wool-producing countries are represented at the exposition. The site of the exposition covers only forty acres of land, which sinks into insignificance when it is compared with the vast acreage which it is proposed to devote to the Panama-Pacific International World's Exposition of 1915 across the bay.

LOOKS A TRIFLE HAZARDOUS

—THE DENVER POST.

A War Correspondent's Triumph.

Alocius Coll, the Associated Press agent stationed at Douglas, Arizona, has brilliantly distinguished himself as a war correspondent through the prompt, graphic, picturesque and ideally effective method of reporting in detail the fierce and desperate battle between the Mexican insurgents or rebels and the federal forces of the republic, which was waged inconclusively at Agua Prieta just across the international border through the whole of yesterday and far into the night. Agua Prieta was captured by the rebels on Thursday last and the federal troops numbering 1600 men, mounted and afoot, opened an attack for its recovery at an early hour in the morning. The place was defended by a thousand rebels who had hastily entrenched the ground around the town and successfully resisted all of the efforts of the assaulting force. Douglas, as well as Agua Prieta, was in the line of the fire of the federals, both towns being on the international boundary line, and suffered consequently.

Coll observed the battle from an automobile patrolling the boundary line, taking all the chances of actual war, and reported the battle in graphic detail as it progressed. So graphic and faithful was his report of the movements of the contending forces and so expeditiously was his clearly-worded descriptions of the various kaleidoscopic changes in the tide of battle transmitted by telegraph through the splendid relay service established by the Associated Press, that THE TRIBUNE, although fully a thousand miles from the scene of action, was in possession of a pen picture of every notable incident on the field of carnage within one-half hour after its occurrence. Such war reporting is unprecedented. Of course, never before in the history of the telegraphic and newspaper service has a war correspondent been where a battle was in progress in so close proximity to a regular telegraph office and the element of delay in the transmission of the news was so completely annihilated. But Coll's intelligent activity and news instinct were so strong that he had a three-thousand-word detailed description of the battle spread throughout the United States before the federal government had received any word of what was taking place on the Mexican side of the line at Douglas.

In his zeal to gather the news Coll showed the same intrepid spirit and disregard of danger that has invariably marked the conduct of war correspondents under similar circumstances, for he never wavered in his work, although his auto was frequently struck by federal rifle and machine gun bullets and a rifle ball plowed through the scalp of a companion sitting by his side. Coll showed resourcefulness, also, for after the officer commanding the American troops took possession of the telegraph line Coll had been using, the latter promptly transferred the remainder of his report to the line of a rival company and retained thereby the tremendous lead he had secured over the army officer in the transmission of the thrilling news. Moreover, Coll's work was perfectly done and so accurate in detail that not a correction was needed in his copy and not a contradiction of statement followed the original report.

The failure of bidding for the San Francisco Hetch-Hetchy water supply bonds is not at all surprising to those who have kept in close touch with the conditions. The invitation to financiers to bid on the authorized bond issue of $1,125,000 met with only one response, and that only for $15,000 worth of the securities. This lonely bidder is, moreover, a civil engineer who has been associated with the preliminary work in connection with the development of the Hetch-Hetchy project. Some of the friends of the scheme rashly attribute the failure of the bonds to the opposition of the Spring Valley Water Company. This excuse is evidently advanced for political effect. It is not true, of course. The real cause for the failure of the bonds is that the Hetch-Hetchy project is resting under a cloud and bankers and other investors in bonds have not at the present time any confidence in the securities.

The big vote which is being cast at the polls today is an assurance of the success of Mayor Mott and the progressive administration ticket.

Twenty Years Ago Today

Homer B. Sprague, ex-president of Mills College, proposes to start an opposition school in Berkeley. It will be remembered that Colonel Sprague came out here from the East to accept the presidency of the college and after serving, for a short time, he was retired. He considered that he had been unjustly treated and wrote a pamphlet on the subject. After a struggle with the grim destroyer, death finally conquered, and at half-past four yesterday afternoon Rev. Osgood Church Wheeler, D. D., L. L. D., chaplain of the Fifth regiment infantry, N. G. C., breathed his last. In July, 1849, he bought a lot on Washington street, San Francisco, for $10,000, and personally cleared off the chapparal and commenced with his own hands the erection of the first Protestant church in California. Among the great services he rendered during his career was as United States internal revenue collector in San Francisco, the reorganization of the baggage system of the Central Pacific railroad. In 1872 he came to Oakland, and had resided here at 1653 Grove street until his death.

The Madrone Club of San Leandro will hold its fourth assembly on April 22.

A son was born to the wife of C. L. Storck in West Berkeley last Wednesday night. Among the Oaklanders who are traveling in different parts of the State this week are the following: R. H. Miller, Miss Frankie Babcock, Mrs. Lily B. Emery, E. K. Randolph, Mrs. D. W. Gelwick, C. H. Cushing, Jr., Ira Phillips, manager for Kate Castleton, Warring Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moore and Miss Lotie Moore, C. F. Scholl, Mrs. Alexander McBean and Mrs. Bessie Williams.

School Directors Rutherford, Smith and Girard, accompanied by City Superintendent McClymonds, went to the Durant school yesterday afternoon on a tour of inspection.

The suit of Hannah Works, executrix of the estate of Henry Works, deceased, against the Remillard Brick Company to recover $50,000 for the death of her husband, is now on trial before Judge Henshaw. D. M. Delmas and H. C. McPike are attorneys for the plaintiff and J. C. Martin and A. A. Moore for the defendants.

Levi R. Byxbee, one of the oldest residents of California, died last evening at the home of his son, 1462 Brush street, of paralysis.

Miss Jennie Zenon and Meyer Livingston were united in marriage last Saturday afternoon by Rabbi Levy at the residence of the bride's parents, 410 Third street. Miss Ada Holman and Miss Ray Jacobs acted as bridesmaids while Mr. Holman and J. Smith assisted the groom.

A very pretty wedding was that of George Randolph and Miss Carrie Maude, which took place Tuesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents, 1328 California street, San Francisco.

Miss Dennis Martin and Miss Gladys Martin, twin sisters of Eldorado Springs, Mo., have made the highest grade in the University of Missouri during the last four years. They tied on an average grade of 97.8 and headed the list of five seniors to be elected to the Phi Beta Kappa.

Craige Lippincott, the publisher, who killed himself, had a rare passion for flowers. In his private conservatory he raised the particular species dear to his fancy. He kept his home beautifully supplied, and for many years made a practice of carrying flowers to his office.

Dr. Maurice H. Richardson of Harvard believes that "we are on the verge of discovering a cure for cancer without the knife."

Prof. Paul S. Reinsch of the University of Wisconsin, sees a big economic result from the Chinese Imperial edict against the time honored pistol, as far as the demand for false hair goes.

THINGS IN GENERAL

It was thirty-eight years ago on March 30 that the first steps toward the founding of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, which met in council in New York recently, were taken at Cincinnati. Referring to the anniversary, the American Israelite says: "A preliminary meeting was called for March 30, 1873. The late Julius Freiberg was called upon to preside, and Lipman Levy was elected secretary. Mr. Levy consented to serve and sat down in the secretary's chair, and is sitting there yet."

Commenting on the Bible tercentenary, the London Chronicle calls attention to a purely secular use for the Scriptures which, it says, is much neglected in England nowadays. Entries of births, marriages and deaths made in a Bible by the head of a family, and also notes of circumstances happening within his own knowledge, are taken as good evidence. "Presumably if such entries are made, say in Shakespeare," the Chronicle adds "they would not be good evidence, so that we have the curious fact of the sacredness of a book conferring value on secular things. Perhaps the notion is that people would be afraid to write lying statements in a Bible."

DISINTEGRATION of the THEATER

The theater in America is passing through its newspaper phase; in every department it is being influenced by those economic forces which try to inflate the market without improving the product, and which measure the product as a commodity rather than as an art. Every industry is subject to the laws of profit and loss, and the theater is an ever-increasing industry, since the amusement territory is increasing. There is no concentration which would make New York the theatrical center in the way that London is the hub of the United Kingdom.

Only by the combining of theatrical interests in the hands of a few dictators has the theater settled into some orderly adjustment, exchanging independence of selection on the part of the small manager and of the actor, for certain salaried assurance. The theatrical interests have largely been held in New York, although Chicago is increasing in importance, while the road has accepted what it could get, the local manager being only a dependent, with no incentive or means to give his public what other than what the syndicate might allow them.

The history of the theatrical trust is hardly different from the growth of any other trust, save in respect to the personalities of the men behind the combination. The magnates who govern Wall street know their trade down to the smallest detail; they know the men with whom they have to deal, and they are quick to measure the risk. The same may be said for the theatrical manager. But the extraordinary business man exceeds the exceptional theater man in this large respect; he understands the way the country is going; he has his hand on the pulse of business conditions at their greatest energy; he knows how the people are thinking on public affairs. The theater manager has no such penetration; he launches his individual enterprises as a gamble, and depends upon the physical resources of theatricalism to "boost" his product.—Forum.

TWO BODIES HAULED FROM BAY IN SOUTH

SANTA MONICA, Cal., April 18.—Two bodies were taken from the harbor here yesterday, one being that of Joseph Ford, 19 years of age, a waiter who jumped from the municipal pier here ten days ago in a spirit of bravado and was drowned. Ford's body was recovered by Japanese fishermen.

The badly decomposed body of C. Henriksen, a member of the San Francisco Sailors' Union, 39 years old, was washed up on the beach. The circumstances responsible for his death are not known. He was formerly a sailor on the steam schooner Dispatch.

Makers who imitate our name, and even our advertising, would also appropriate our "straps" and "harness-like" devices, if the United States Patent Laws didn't prevent, for it is these devices that do the work.

HICHBORN REFUSES TO TAKE BACK HIS RUNAWAY WIFE

MRS. PHILIP HICHBORN, who has returned to America at the same time as Horace Wythe.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Philip Hichborn, husband of the young society matron who eloped several months ago with Horace Wythe, a well known man about town here, declares that he is through with his wife forever; and at the proper time will begin suit for divorce.

"It is not true that Mrs. Hichborn is coming back here," said Mr. Hichborn. "I would not have her back. I have heard that she is now in America, but if she is in a nearby sanitarium or even in Washington I know nothing of it. I have not heard from her, nor do I expect to."

"The matter of my obtaining a divorce is no secret," continued Hichborn, "but I will probably not file an immediate suit."

"I have been frequently asked what I would do if I should meet Mr. Wythe. I wish to state that I will not see him. I don't think he will cross my path."

Mrs. Horace Wythe refused to discuss the matter at all yesterday, but it is understood that Mrs. Wythe nevertheless went to New York on Friday and spent the day with her husband. She returned to Washington on Saturday and has absolutely refused to see any one, even her closest friends, since.

The list of games made up by the committee is composed of foot races, sack races, high and broad jumping, throwing the hammer and putting the shot. Several chapters of the Eastern Star are making arrangements with the railroad company for a whole car to carry their members to and from the park. Baskets of lunch will be provided to all the visitors, while in the afternoon the pavilion for dancing will be filled with good music.

The committee of arrangements consist of W. F. Vane, W. H. Graham, A. T. Mitchell, G. O. Warren, R. S. Chase, T. F. Rennie and T. Brown.

Bodies of Lost Men Found in Snowy Wastes by Relief Expedition.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 18.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Dawson, Y. T., says that the bodies of the mounted police who set out December 22 from Fort MacPherson for Dawson were found not far south of MacPherson by the relief expedition which left Dawson February 21. The men in the ill-fated Fort MacPherson expedition, which was under command of Captain F. J. Fitzgerald, and consisted of Constables Carter, Kinney and Taylor, and a pack train of the Peck river after their supplies had given out and they had eaten their dogs. The relief expedition took the bodies to MacPherson and returned to Dawson, arriving there today.

SEARCH EUROPE FOR FUGITIVES

Greek Crew, Under Indictment, Fails to Return to the United States.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The United States government probably will have to start a European hunt to apprehend several officers and members of the crew of the Greek ship Athena, who were arrested and indicted on February 25, charged with conspiracy in a widespread plot for smuggling undesirable aliens into this country. The men, when arrested, all gave bail—a total of $45,000—for appearance on their ships next voyage to this side. She is in New York today, but, manned this time by an entirely new outfit of officers and men.

The court will be asked on Monday to declare all bail forfeited. The officers are not extraditable from Greece, but as the men are all seafarers the belief is that they may be arrested as fugitives in some other country.

According to the District Attorney some high steamship officials were involved in the plot, by which it is charged thousands of persons deportable under the law were landed here. For months before making the first open move government agents worked obtaining evidence. Some crossed the Atlantic on vessels under suspicion and in one case an agent went back to Greece as a deported alien.

HOTELING AT BEST IN CLEVER FARCE

"Mr. Hopkinson" Gives Star Excellent Chance to Display Ability.

With "Mr. Hopkinson," a farce, from the pen of R. C. Carton, Richard Hotelling last night opened his third week at Ye Liberty Theater. With this new play he for the first time ventures into the field of the broadly comic, a field as far removed from his Shakespearean characterizations as could possibly be conceived.

In the play Hoteling and his associates have an exceptionally good vehicle, one of the smoothest and cleverest farces that has been seen in these parts. In many a moon, Seldom has the company given a better account of itself, especially at a first performance. There was not a hitch to mar the evening.

In theme it is the story of a hopeless bounder, Mr. Hopkinson, a cockney bookkeeper, who comes into a tremendous fortune, and with it has aspirations on the ramparts of High Society. Of course he can find guides a plenty in the bankrupt English aristocracy who for a consideration will try to get him in. The first step is to marry him to a girl of title, and then his troubles begin. Bled monetarily on every hand, he suffers exorbitant agonies at seeing the money go, and finally when on the morning of the wedding his bride-to-be goes, too, he is glad to escape from the rarified air of the "upper classes" and seek consolation at the hands of a lady's maid, whom he had thrown over on coming into his money.

RICH IN OPPORTUNITY.

In this role of the thoroughly caddish but even more thoroughly amusing "Hoppy" Hotelling has a part rich in opportunities for laughs. And he gets them, too. A little less stress laid on the "idiot" of "Hoppy" not quite so much exaggeration of his commonness would make the role even more amusing than it now is, while at the same time making the play more plausible.

Of the supporting company last night, nothing but praise can be said. There was not a role which was not well filled and to select for individual mention the work of one or two seems unfair to the others who did so well. Maxton should be made, however, of Andrew Bennison's Lord Gawthorpe, a role which might have been absolutely colorless, but which Bennison made one of the best things in the play. Shuter's mercenary English nobleman, too, was a capital piece of work, rich in color and humor. Gleason as "Hoppy's" social guide, was thoroughly satisfactory, while Marshall Seymour's Eliza Dismore, former fiancée of "Hoppy," and his source of consolation when his aristocratic acquaintances turn him down, deserves particular mention for her cockney speech and her suavity of demeanor.

ANCIENT CITIES ARE LAID BARE

Researchers in Guatemala Uncover Splendors of Ante-Christian Era.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Edward L. Hewitt, director of the School of American Archaeology, has just returned to New York from Quirigua, Guatemala, with a glowing report of the American researchers there. The diggings at both Quirigua and Copan, he says, have laid bare ancient cities of surpassing splendor which flourished long before the Christian era.

The American archeologists are in complete possession of the ruins of Quirigua. There they have found sculpture as beautiful as any that Egypt or Assyria ever boasted, and hieroglyphics even more interesting, but they can scarcely be read.

Only the system of reckoning time has been deciphered and the rest of his history is carved in blocks which no man has yet been able to translate.

Close study of the masterpieces of antique genius thus far unearthed seem to show a close cultural resemblance between this civilization and that of the races farther north, but there is not enough resemblance to prove that there ever was any actual connection of North and South America before the fall of Rome.

Grand Opening Saturday AND Sunday Next

—the great advantage of extra wide lots PIEDMONT MANOR

$20, $25, $30 a front foot 10 per cent down Balance Easy Payments

Did you ever stop to think what it is that gives residential property its value?

Why is it that fifty and sixty-foot residential lots in Claremont are selling for $100 a front foot, while similar lots, twenty-five feet wide, in the hills back of Fruitvale, with just as fine climate, just as good marine view and just as easily reached by car lines, can be bought for $8 and $10 a front foot?

It isn't because the soil is worth more.

Then why is it? It is ENVIRONMENT that makes these values—neighborhood—superiority.

And what makes one neighborhood so superior to another?

There are three reasons: The people of the neighborhood. The building restrictions. The width of the lots.

And the width of the lots has more to do with than either of the other features.

Because where lots are narrow there is sure to be some crowding—some one is sure to build a thirty-foot house on a thirty-five-foot lot and no building restrictions in the world can stop him.

Therefore, nowadays the best people are insisting upon wide lots, for

Within 20 minutes walk to Piedmont Key Route Station

there is nothing so mediocre as a crowded neighborhood.

IN PIEDMONT MANOR EVERY LOT IS FROM 60 TO 90 FEET WIDE AND FROM 80 TO 125 FEET DEEP, AND NO ONE IS ALLOWED TO SUBDIVIDE HIS LOT OR TO BUILD MORE THAN ONE HOUSE UPON IT.

This feature is attracting the interest of people who want ARTISTIC homes, and these are the kind of people who are BUYING Piedmont Manor lots and who will be YOUR neighbors if you buy.

You cannot have an attractive home upon a narrow lot, and it isn't safe to build permanently in unrestricted districts. For example, look at the expensive homes along Telegraph avenue. These residences are nearly all built on narrow lots in unrestricted localities, and the owners paid big sums to have them constructed, only to be saluted in a few years by a neighborhood string of delicatessen stores, renovatories, notion emporiums and "fine groceries."

On the other hand, take the experience of those of our residents who bought in Claremont Court, the Crocker Tract, etc., where no narrow lots were sold and where every home-builder agreed to occupy enough ground to give the neighborhood an aspect of spaciousness.

Real Estate Department—1218 Broadway, Oakland.

Were not these buyers eminently more successful in their purchases both financially and aesthetically than were those who bought and built on narrow lots in unrestricted districts?

Landscape architects and subdivision experts everywhere will tell you that wide lots are almost ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL in the development of modern, artistic neighborhoods, because they PROTECT and insure the locality against crowding—the most inartistic feature a community can have.

Even a cabin upon a good sized lot is pretty if the surroundings are rightly developed.

GET YOUR IMAGINATION TO WORKING.

Can you imagine how beautiful Piedmont Manor will be with the big, wide lots and the $3000 building restrictions?

Can't you see a mental picture of a delightfully charming neighborhood with block after block of lovely green terraced lawns—with ornamental trees bordering the curving driveways, little parks and parking spaces, tennis courts and rose-covered summer homes?

Can't you see a setting of beautiful homes on spacious lots—a beautiful kaleidoscopic panorama of summer awnings and hammocks and Chinese lanterns and lawn parties and tingling mandolins and children's laughter?

Doesn't all this munificence go with big, wide lots and fine spacious lawns? Of course it does.

Then, why do you not decide RIGHT NOW to get a lot in Piedmont Manor? It is the VERY PROPOSITION you have been looking for and the first thing you know you'll let it slip through your fingers.

Remember, there are only about 72 lots in the entire tract, a number of which have already been sold in spite of the fact that the opening day isn't until next Sunday.

It simply isn't safe for you to wait any longer.

Office open tonight.

GROSS ELECTION FRAUDS PROVEN

New Jersey Assembly Committee Discovers Cases of Illegal Voting.

TRENTON, N. J., April 18.—The special assembly committee appointed to investigate the election in Atlantic county last November reported to the House today that it found there was false registration, illegal voting and purchase of votes, and that election officers of the county failed to do their duty. It is estimated by the committee from the testimony taken that there were approximately 2000 illegal registrations and 1000 illegal votes.

It is stated in the report that the officeholders in Atlantic county were requested to contribute to the Republican campaign fund, and he committee further states it is satisfied "that the misconduct and corruption heretofore set forth, whether or not it was in obedience to the instruction of the leaders of the political party in power in Atlantic county, at least could have been prevented by them, and to that extent they are charged with responsibility therefor."

Prosecutions are probable, the report intimates. The report is signed by four Democrats and one Republican composing the committee.

MAN-KILLING HORSE MAIMS GIRL RIDER

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—In a battle between a girl and an outlaw horse which has a record as a man killer, Miss Goldie St. Clair probably fulfilled Colonel Roosevelt's prediction that a "bad horse finally would get her." The young woman was crushed beneath the bronco after a terrible battle in the arena of the "Big Ranch" exhibition.

Miss St. Clair, who won the former President's plaudits last August at Cheyenne, Wyo., in the frontier days contest when she retained her title as champion "crazy bronco buster," is at the point of death, only murmuring in her delirium the determination to conquer and ride the untamed steed.

Miss St. Clair undertook the task of riding "Roan Mare," known throughout the west as the worst type of man killing outlaw horse.

BOYS IN BOAT ON BAY MISSING SINCE SATURDAY

FOUR YOUTHS ARE BELIEVED DROWNED

Parents and Police Seek Some Word From Young Mariners.

Leave Homes on Easter Excursion and Are Not Seen Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Four young boys are believed to have met death in the waters of San Francisco bay some time after 7 o'clock Sunday night as the culmination of a pleasure excursion planned for Easter morn, and indulged in by Harold Gilberg, George Wood and two other boys whose names have not been learned.

El F. Gilberg, an employee of Shreve & Co., residing at 1700 Chestnut street, reported the last missing last night, at the Harbor Police station, and the police patrol boat was sent scouring the bay in an effort to find them, or at least get a clew which might give an idea of the fate which may have befallen them. The youths embarked on a scow slop from Hunters' Point and spent the day in cruising around until between 8:30 and 9 p. m. when they were seen in the vicinity of Goat Island by friends passing on a ferryboat. Thoughtful of the night and during yesterday frantic parents waited anxiously for their return, but as they did not appear their fears that something must have befallen them were increased and the police appealed to to make a search.

GIRL BATTLES WITH OFFICERS

Rose Driscoll Objects to Being Servant and Taking Off Good Clothes.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Rose Mary Driscoll, a slender girl, residing at 313 Elsie street, defied the entire staff of the detention home this morning, left bruises on the faces and bodies of all the officers, and smashed through the wall of a room. The girl, who is but eighteen years old, was apprehended by the police two months ago, while attired in boy's clothing. She was found sleeping on a Sutter street doorstep and later her identity was kept secret at the instance of Judge Shortall.

Last night she was sent to the detention home and was attired in a beautiful princess gown, which she had purchased while working as a domestic in a local family. It was her refusal to put on other clothing which led to the trouble. She was locked in a room, but battered down the partition with a sewing machine. Several nurses, Superintendent Aschro and Officer Montgomery, fought with her, but she scratched their faces and handled them all so roughly that it was with difficulty that she could be held until the arrival of an ambulance from the detention hospital.

"I don't want to work as a servant," she protested. "I am 18 and I want to be allowed to choose my occupation. Judge Murasky has threatened to send me to a reform school, but I won't go."

BERKELEY WOMAN FLEES FOR SAFETY

Mrs. J. T. Hoffman in Town During Battle

Americans Stoned by a Mob While Riding in Zacatecas

BERKELEY, April 18.—Fleeing with her 5-year-old daughter from Zacatecas, Mexico, after a fierce battle in the street during a rebel invasion, Mrs. John T. Hoffman, formerly Miss Mary R. Le Conte of this city and a graduate of the University of California, arrived here on the Owl train this morning to seek refuge in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Le Conte, 2501 Piedmont avenue.

Hoffman, who is a mining engineer, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman of Oakland, is superintendent of a large mine five miles from Zacatecas, a city of 80,000 inhabitants. He remained at his post of duty and sent his wife and child on the journey to Berkeley and safety which required a week's travel by roundabout routes, instead of the usual three days' trip.

The excitement of her hasty departure from the invaded city and the slow progress through a turbulent country have left Mrs. Hoffman in an almost exhausted state and filled with anxiety as to the welfare of her husband.

Mrs. Hoffman expects to remain here indefinitely, owing to the disturbed conditions in Mexico.

She was in Zacatecas one week ago last Sunday when the rebel advance guard, under command of Luis Moyer, rode into the city and attacked the federal troops stationed on the main street in the windows of Governor Francisco Zarate's palace. A shower of bullets caused the Hoffman family to flee to a club, to which the engineer belongs, on one of the main streets.

ELEVEN FEDERALS KILLED

Although the first of the rebels to appear consisted of but fifty mounted men, they succeeded in killing eleven of the federal soldiers and wounding twenty-three. None of the revolutionists was killed, but two were seriously injured.

Mrs. Hoffman attempted to leave the city on the following day, but did not get out until Tuesday, one week ago. In the meantime she remained with her husband and child in a storehouse belonging to a friend. An Oklahoma woman, whose husband is also engaged in mining, accompanied Mrs. Hoffman to El Paso, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman were the objects of a small sized riot at the time the American troops were ordered to the border several weeks ago. They were riding through Catecas when news of the movements of the American soldiers was received. A crowd of lower class residents, inflamed by hatred of Americans and the indefinite news of marching American troops, crowded about their conveyance, uttering curses against them and their kind and throwing stones, which threatened to injure the Berkeleys.

Mrs. Hoffman declares all Americans in Mexico realize the danger in case the United States troops cross the border into that country and are prepared to protect themselves.

Superintendent McDonald, in charge of a mine at Guanajuato, has placed mines around his plants to be set off in the event of an attack and has laid in a six months' supply of provisions. Hoffman and other Americans at Zacatecas have been invited by McDonald to seek refuge inside his fort whenever danger threatens.

Hoffman is a graduate of the class of 1909 at the University of California. He was married to Miss Mary R. Le Conte, a relative of Prof. Joseph Le Conte, five years ago, and went to Mexico sixteen months ago.

'DOC' BROWN KILLS SELF

WHEN ILL-LUCK PROMPTS

'Hoping Against Hope,' Writes Liquor Man, Then Blows Out Brains in City Hall Park

Driven to desperation by his failure to obtain work to support his wife, E. G. Brown, formerly a well known liquor dealer of Oregon and Washington and known popularly in three states among Elks and Eagles as "Doc" Brown, committed suicide in the city hall park off Fourth street, and shot himself through the head by blowing out his brains with a .38-caliber revolver early this morning. His action, explained in two pitiful notes to his wife, was taken to give her the opportunity of obtaining an insurance on his life to place her above the tragedy of want.

The widow, Mrs. Ella Brown, is prostrated with grief at the apartments in the Eva building, 335 Thirteenth street. Last night when informed of the pitiful death of her husband she swooned, and it was necessary to have her cared for during the night as her condition for a time was critical. According to Mrs. Brown and to the notes left by her husband, the patient attachment existed between husband and wife, who had been married for twenty-five years.

PLANS SUICIDE.

Brown, who has been in Oakland six weeks seeking work, having come to this city from Spokane, had evidently been planning to take his life for some time. Two notes were found on his person, one dated April 11 and the other April 17. Both contain references to his wife, praise of her goodness and faithfulness, and a pitiful lament that he was unable to care for her properly.

Brown shot himself shortly after midnight. He lay slumped the low wire fence that protects the lawn of the city hall park and the body was found a few feet from the sidewalk line lying on the grass. He was still alive and Inspector Brown and Sergeant Woods had him rushed in the patrol to the Receiving hospital. He died at the hospital without regaining consciousness.

The story told by his widow and by the despairing notes left by the suicide is one of a man who had been a well known sporting man and a saloon man of Spokane. He was at one time wealthy, and up to a short time ago had a competence. Recently, according to the wife, he was swindled out of his money and found it impossible to obtain work.

MARRIED WHEN 15.

"We were married twenty-five years ago in Iowa," said Mrs. Brown this morning. "I was a girl of but 15 years of age at the time, and we fell desperately in love with each other. Our married life has always been a happy one and he has cared for me and made my life happy."

When he lost his money he tried hard to make good in several ways, but luck went against him. We have been in Oakland for six weeks, and lately he has been very gloomy. He gave me no warning that he might kill himself, and this has come as the bitterest and most tragic shock of my life. I shall never recover from it."

Brown was 56 years of age and a native of Iowa. He had been engaged in business in Spokane and Tacoma. He was a life member of B. P. O. E. No. 238

Hopes Against Hope Pawn Tickets, Legacy

April 11.

Dear Sweetheart Wife: Have been hoping against hope that something favorable would turn up so that I could see my way clear to make a more comfortable living for you. But it seems fate has decreed otherwise.

Take the insurance money and get a flat in some nice city in Oregon or Washington. Think of me last night with Dickie, Gilda and Bessie. Don't grieve over me—I am not worthy of your tears.

God bless you and protect you. A last good-bye. You have been more than faithful.

(Signed) DOC.

April 17.

Dear Sweetheart Wife: A nice legacy to leave you — a lot of pawn tickets. Well, dear sweetheart, you certainly have been a patient wife and deserve much better than at present it looks like I would be able to give you.

A ticket for two little rings I gave to Steve. If you get insurance money without trouble, get the things back. I realize how worthless I am as a money-maker any more.

Hope and know the Elks and Eagles will be kind to you. I guess this must be fate. Goodbye and God bless you. You have been the dearest and truest little wife in this world.

Heaven help you more than I seem able to do.

An inquest will be held tomorrow at the morgue over the remains.

WIFE SHUNS COURT WHEN JUDGE TAKES CUPID POLE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—A wife who does not want to be reconciled, and a judge with a reputation for mending broken hearts, are working at cross purposes in connection with the divorce suit begun by John Badgaluppi, and it was through Cupid he was worsted in the battle.

Last week Badgaluppi expressed so much solicitude regarding the future welfare of his wife, Alida, that Judge Graham hoped to be able to reconcile them. Word was received by Mrs. Badgaluppi to this effect, and she has since kept clear of the court.

The judge was granted as a result of the critical illness of Alida, Burke, the brother of the convicted physician, Deputy Sheriff Donald McIntosh was detailed to accompany Dr. Burke to this city.

COWELL WILLS $750,000 TO U.C.

The Cement Manufacturer's Bequest to Go For Hospital and Big Stadium.

Law May Defeat Purpose if Heirs See Fit to Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Through the will of Ernest V. Cowell, the cement manufacturer, died, three gifts are made to the University of California of a total value of $750,000. The bequests are for a hospital, a student gymnasium and an athletic stadium, each to cost $250,000. It is provided that all the structures shall be erected on the college campus as the money becomes available.

Cowell was a member of the class of '81 at the university and maintained a deep interest in the institution. He gave large sums during his lifetime and had planned to leave the bulk of his estate to the college at his death.

It may be, however, that Cowell defeated his own purpose, for under the law of California only one-third of an estate may be thus deflected from the regular channels of inheritance. If the heirs agree, the bequests will stand. It is within their power, however, to force a different distribution. The entire estate is valued at $1,000,000. If the will should be broken the state university would receive $333,000 in lieu of the $750,000 which Cowell desired it should receive.

WELL PROVIDED FOR.

It is stated that Cowell's legal heirs, his wife, brother and two sisters were aware of his intention. The widow is well provided for in the will and the brothers and sisters are independently wealthy. It is thought, therefore, that they may be agreeable to the bequests as made.

The will is holographic and was made without legal consultation. It names as executors Alice M. Cowell, the widow, and Alexander B. Morrison, an attorney. Morrison was a student in the university in the class of '78 and knew Cowell during their undergraduate days at Berkeley.

Cowell's generosity extended beyond the university and many of his employees are made beneficiaries under the terms of the will. The document is composed of eleven divisions, which provide as follows:

First—All cash and bank stock to be delivered to Mrs. Cowell.

Second—Cowell's one-fourth interest in the family properties to be converted into cash within seven years, until such distribution the properties to pay Mrs. Cowell $1000 a month. At the end of seven years she is to receive the income from $250,000. After her death the $250,000 is to go to the university for a hospital.

$250,000 GYMNASIUM.

Third—The sum of $250,000 to go to the university for a gymnasium.

Fourth—The sum of $250,000 to go to the university for a stadium on California field.

Fifth—All employees of the Cowell Lime and Cement Company at Santa Cruz, who have been with the company twenty years, to receive $1000 each; those who have been with the company ten years to receive $500 each.

Sixth—All employees in San Francisco of the same firm who have been with the company three years to receive $1000 each; those who have been with the company two years $500 each.

Seventh—To Patrick Dorsey of Santa Cruz, and Cornelius Coghlan of Friday Harbor, Wash., $2500 each.

Eighth—The sum of $10,000 to the Cowell scholarship fund at Santa Cruz for the benefit of university students.

Ninth—Prompt sales to be made to meet minor requests.

Tenth—Residue of estate to go to Cowell's brother and two sisters.

Eleventh—If no heirs survive residue to go for hot houses and flower gardens at the state university.

Cowell died in San Francisco on March 18. Beside his industrial interests he owned many ranches and much local real estate, as well as stock in the Bank of California.

His surviving heirs are Mrs. Cowell, who lives at the Fairmont hotel; Samuel M. Cowell, a brother 49 years of age, of Santa Cruz; Miss Isabelle Cowell, and Miss Helen Cowell, sisters, of 2610 Jackson street.

DR. BURKE HERE TO VISIT BROTHER

Granted Liberty to See Relative Who Is Ill in This City.

Dr. Willard P. Burke, convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment at San Quentin for dynamiting the tent of La Bita Smith at Burke's sanitarium, and now in jail here pending his appeal to the higher court, has been granted a measure of liberty.

On the application of his attorneys, Judge Emmet Seawell signed an order permitting Dr. Burke to come to Oakland under the chaperonage of Sheriff Jack Smith to see one of his deputies, and to remain here to and including tomorrow.

The order was granted as a result of the critical illness of Alfred Burke, the brother of the convicted physician. Deputy Sheriff Donald McIntosh was detailed to accompany Dr. Burke to this city.

THIEVES LOOT KNOWLAND HOME

Congressman's Sister Loses Valuable Heirlooms and Rich Jewels.

Daylight Crooks Work While Mistress of House is at Function.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—Precious family heirlooms and other jewelry, valued at $1000, was stolen from the home of Mrs. Lucile Knowland, sister of Congressman J. R. Knowland, 1547 Everett street, yesterday afternoon. The home was looted of its portable valuables during the absence of Mrs. Knowland at a function of the Grand Army of the Republic at Pythian Castle, between the hours of 2:15 and 4:45. Returning alone to her home Mrs. Knowland was unable to open the front door with her latchkey, and climbing through a window in the front of the house she found that a chain lock had been placed on the door.

Frightened at the discovery, she hastily investigated the other rooms in the house only to find the contents of bureau drawers and closets scattered on the beds and floors, and her cherished articles of jewelry stolen by the thieves who operated during her absence. The sum of $550, belonging to the Criterion Club, a large sum of money in Mrs. Knowland's purse, were also missing.

SUSPECT PROFESSIONALS.

The fact that the daylight burglars took only the real and most valuable jewelry, leaving imitation corals and a few other ornamental pieces of little value, leads Mrs. Knowland and the police to believe that the robbery was committed by professionals. Three gold rings, a gold locket and chain, a gold fob with pearls, two diamond lockets, a gold brooch with a black pearl and garnet, a gold bracelet, earrings, a gold watch chain, a coral chain and several pins were stolen.

Mrs. Knowland values the gold pin with the black pearl at $500. A .38 caliber Colt's revolver and a 32 caliber Smith & Wesson were stolen from one of the bed chambers. Mrs. Knowland's G. A. R. pin with her name engraved on it, and two gold watches were left by the robbers. None of the silverware on the buffet in the dining room was disturbed. Entrance was gained by forcing the window of the den in the front of the house.

VINES HIDE BURGLARS.

As the veranda is obscured by vines it was possible for the thieves to work without being seen from the street. After gaining entrance the front door was fastened with a chain lock in order to ascertain when any of the house occupants were returning. The burglars left by the rear door, which Mrs. Knowland found locked upon her return. It is thought that the thieves worked in the house for more than two hours.

Mrs. Knowland, called at the home shortly after 8 o'clock and found the rear door locked. Judging from the condition of all of the rooms, which were completely ransacked, Mrs. Knowland believes that the thieves were there at the time that her father called.

"I was greatly frightened when I found the chain on the front door, and I realized at once that the house had been entered. My jewelry was very valuable and cannot be replaced," said Mrs. Knowland today. "Luckily I had my diamonds and my diamonds carried on me. The robbers must have worked undisturbed in the house for several hours."

ACCUSED WHITE SLAVER JAILED

Harry Johnson Is Given Into Custody of the Federal Officials.

Charged under the federal statute with transporting women from one State into another for immoral purposes, Harry Johnson, who was arrested at Seventh and Franklin streets a week ago with Ethel Payne on a charge of vagrancy, was given into the custody of United States Marshal J. S. Robinson and Immigration Officer John S. Robinson this morning to be taken to the county jail. He will be arraigned under the federal law on a felony charge.

It is charged that Johnson brought Ethel Payne from Seattle, Washington, to Oakland and placed her here in a house of ill repute. The girl was arrested at the same time as Johnson and pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy, the technical charge invoked under such conditions. She was sentenced to spend ten days in the city prison and will be used as a witness against Johnson. The arrests last week were made by Sergeant Still.

PHONESTHREAT TO SOCIETY LEADER

Nurse Drinks Poison After Warning Friend of Her Intention.

Employer Refuses to Leave Bed; Arrives Too Late to Save Woman.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—While a prominent local society matron who lives in Parkside slept last night a nurse, much beloved by her, who had warned her of the impending tragedy, attempted suicide in another part of the city and died at the Central Emergency Hospital at 11 o'clock.

The member of the smart set, who has refused to give her name, received a telephone message from Miss Hilda Johnson, 35 years old, a pretty nurse of 2009 Sutter street, at 10 o'clock last night, that she was about to take carbolic acid.

THREATENED ACT.

"She had threatened it several times before," said the woman, "and I thought it was only another of her despondent moods. My husband is ill and he would not have liked my leaving at that hour of the night. I felt sort of anxious, however, and this morning I told my maid that I would go over at once. At 10 o'clock this morning I opened the door and found the poor girl unconscious."

Miss Johnson, a graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York, whose parents reside in Sweden, has been a drug user, first taking it to enable her to sleep. According to her friend she is idiotic and irresponsible while under its influence and to prevent her from going out on the street, where she feared she might be picked up by the police, the woman locked the door of the home last night and went to her own house. Before she left the girl said, "I'll kill myself. I'll end all this misery."

REPEATS THREAT.

At 10 o'clock the telephone rang and again Miss Johnson repeated the threat.

"If I had only gone over there last night she would not be here now," said the woman as she looked at the face of her friend who had nursed her through two severe illnesses and who was gasping for breath. "I hurried over this morning, opened the door, and there saw that I was too late."

Dr. J. Leffer was called in and had the girl sent to the Central Emergency Hospital. The stomach pump was administered, but without effect. Recently she had been employed by Dr. J. S. Stone of 2007 Sutter street.

BABY CAUSE OF FATHER'S DEATH

Trips on Gun Exploding Cart-ridge and Charge Enters Parent's Body.

MEPHERSON, Kas., April 18.—An infant child of Homer Little, a farmer, who lives five miles northeast of Conway, Kas., was the innocent cause of its father's death from a gunshot wound here yesterday.

Returning from a wolf hunt, Little placed his loaded shotgun on a porch of his house and began playing with his 17-month-old baby. The child tripped on the gun, causing the shell to explode. The shot from the gun entered Little's leg, almost severing it from the body. The leg was amputated, but the operation failed to save his life.

FLAMES TRAP HELPLESS WOMAN

Neighbors Rush Into Burning House Just in Time to Save Her Life.

Crowd Hisses Oakland Firemen While $10,000 Residence Is Destroyed.

Helpless through illness, and trapped in the house when it was on fire last night, Mrs. T. A. Olsen was found by neighbors in the burning residence at 1052 Third avenue, and carried from the structure. The woman, taken from her sick bed, had become unconscious from fright and horror at the prospect of being burned to death in her room.

Neighbors rushed to her assistance when the alarm of fire was turned in and succeeded in carrying her through smoke and flames to safety. The residence, valued at $10,000, was almost totally destroyed.

The fire department did not arrive on the scene until about thirty minutes after the alarm was turned in, and when the firemen finally arrived to find the building a mass of flames, they were roundly hissed by a crowd of about 1000 people who had gathered in the street.

The delay, according to Fire Marshal N. A. Ball, was due to the fact that an earlier call from East Eleventh and Twenty-eighth avenue, had called the East Oakland fire company away from the district and equipment had to be furnished from the Central and Sixth street fire houses. Two alarms were turned in from the location of the Olsen residence. Neighbors also aided in removing furniture from the house, saving a piano and considerable other furniture. The residence was totally destroyed. It is covered by insurance, and is the property of M. Wisenbaum of San Francisco.

Place Blame for Death Of N. Y. Fire Victims

Harris & Blanck, Proprietors of Triangle Waist Co. Are Held Responsible by Jury.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, proprietors of the Triangle Waist Company, who are already under indictment charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of 145 employees by fire, were found by a coroner's jury to be responsible for the death of one of the operators.

The verdict was returned in the case of Mary Herman, whose escape from the ninth floor was cut off, it is alleged, by a locked door. Harris and Blanck are responsible for the death, the verdict reads, because of culpable and criminal negligence in failing to observe the legal precautions of leaving the said door unlocked.

The Illinois Athletic Club of Chicago will send one of the best wrestlers from that vicinity to the Portland meet and the Salt Lake Young Men's Christian Association will have several entries.

Edgar Frank will visit the athletic leaders at the University of California today in an endeavor to secure entries from the blue and gold institution. California has shown considerable interest in the mat game. Stanford will also be

CONTEST ON DIAMOND

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18. — The visiting Japanese ball players from the University of Waseda made their debut at Recreation Park yesterday and slipped a merry trouncing to their local countrymen by a score of 18 to 0. The game was so one-sided that had the visitors chosen they could probably have stayed at the bat all day, but took pity on their hosts after annexing a bunch of tallies in the first few innings. The losing nine styled themselves the Pacifics and put up a ludicrous exhibition of the American national game. The only redeeming feature of their showing was the trim uniforms they wore. They had the appearance of a real ball team before the game commenced, but the Waseda men took the measure and sent them skyward in the first spasm.

OAKLAND IS ONLY ASKING FOR FAIR PLAY.

There is no desire on the part of the Oakland manager to win games by protests or by unfair means, but they do want an even break. The hit of Tedleman's was sufficient to score a runner from second and while it did not alter the score, as after events proved, there is no telling what would have happened had Tedleman gone to second and Mize to the plate.

The decision is made though, and that settles the matter, but again it seems funny, very funny indeed, that in over 1500 ball games ground rules would prevail, but not in this one.

CONFERENCE MEET TO BE HELD ON SATURDAY

The second annual Pacific Coast Conference Meet to take place on California Oval Saturday afternoon next at 3 o'clock. Under the conference rules teams are limited to twelve men. This year full teams are entered by Washington, Oregon, Stanford and California, while Nevada has promised to send down a few men.

The Oregon team arrived Saturday in time to see the Stanford-California meet, and are training this week on the California Oval. The University of Washington representatives will reach Berkeley Tuesday evening, coming direct from Seattle, where they met the Oregon Agricultural team last Saturday. The Washington team has some of the best athletes on the coast and are looking forward to carrying away the honors of the meet again this year. While this is one of the first meets of the season for Oregon's team, if their men get into condition this week, the lemon and green contestants are certain to annex a considerable number of points.

Among the strongest men on the Oregon team are McCleure, Kay and Captain Hawkins. McCleure will enter the mile and two-mile, and has done

10.3 in the two-mile and 4.32 in the mile; Kay has done 22.3 in the 220 and 10.1 in the 100, and Captain Hawkins has made 15.3 in the high and 25.3 in the low hurdles. Bailey is credited with as good as 151 in the hammer.

On the University of Washington team Gish, Bowman and Evans are among the likeliest candidates. Gish has done the 100 in 10.1, the broad jump at 23.2, and in addition to this is a good quarter man. Bowman has covered the bar at 12 feet in the pole vault and is also a high jumper. Evans is a high jumper and javelin man and can do six feet in the high jump and captured the javelin last year.

The entries from the University of Oregon are as follows: Kay, Johns, McCleure, McGuire, Hawkins, Latour-ette, Service, Kellogg, Bailey and Neil.

The University of Washington is

The entries from Stanford will be received on Wednesday.

UNVEIL TABLET
TO FRENCH HEROESForeigners Who Laid Down
Their Lives for U. S. Are Honored.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 18.—On the campus of St. John's College there was unveiled today a bronze tablet erected by the general society of the Sons of the Revolution to the memory of French soldiers and sailors, who in 1781 laid down their lives in the cause of American independence. President Taft and a number of Annapolis, but representatives of the Sons of the Revolution from all parts of the country, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Society of the Cincinnati, the Maryland Historical Society and the Daughters of the American Revolution were in attendance.

MEET IN WASHINGTON.

The unveiling exercises were in charge of the general society of the Sons of the American Revolution, which is meeting in triennial convention at Washington this week, today's program here being one of the features of the session.

Following the presentation of the monument to St. John's College, as custodian by Edmund Witmer, acting president of the general society of the sons of the revolution, the memorial was unveiled by Miss Amelia Denault, daughter of a descendant of the French fleet at the siege of Yorktown.

In a brief speech Rev. Thomas Fell, president of St. John's, accepted the monument on behalf of the college. The addresses of President Taft and Ambassador Jusserand followed.

RACING ORDINANCE
IS SENT TO PRINTBill Prohibits Publication of Form Charts and Forecasts.

The bill prohibiting the publication of form-charts, tips or forecasts on horse-racing, the bill of the newspapers and publications containing such gambling tips, introduced recently by Councilman L. N. Cobbledick, was passed to print by the city council last night on the recommendation of the ordinance and judiciary committee. The ordinance is framed on the basis of a similar law in force in Los Angeles and is intended as local legislation to co-operate with the Walker-Young anti-gambling law passed by the recent legislature. It is aimed directly at poolroom business on foreign races, such as those at Juarez, and in states which do not legislate against horse-racing.

According to the city attorney, who has passed favorably on the legality of the new bill, the ordinance will not only affect local papers, but will prohibit the sale of papers from outside cities carrying race-track news which include form charts or racing tips.

RECIPROCITY IS
DEBATE SUBJECTThe Proposed Canadian Pact
Occupies Attention of House for Third Day.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Canadian reciprocity was again the subject of debate in the House today, the third day of the discussion. This was originally planned to be the concluding day, but will not be, for when the House convened Representative Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, declared so many amendments available that he had to postpone the debate until the morning of the 19th.

"I do not believe we can conclude the debate before Thursday," said Mr. Underwood. "Mr. McCall, on the Republican side, to whom I have allotted five hours of my time, has not yet spoken, nor have any of the Republican supporters of the bill. Their arguments alone will take up the greater part of the day, and Mr. Dinkell has not yet spoken. There are others on both sides who wish to speak, and I will close the debate. I see no chance of getting the bill to a vote before Thursday at the earliest."

Mr. McCall of Massachusetts was ready to take up the debate to answer arguments made against the bill by his party colleagues, Representatives Hinds, Fordney, Lenroot and Crumpacker.

The Senate has adjourned until Thursday.

CLEAR JUDGE OF
PREJUDICE CHARGESupreme Court Refuses to File Petition Against Hunt.

COLUMBUS, O., April 18.—The supreme court refused today the application of Prosecutor Henry Hunt of Cincinnati to file a petition in quo warranto against Judge Charles J. Hunt of Cincinnati with regard to the trial of George B. Cox, the Cincinnati political leader and this court.

Prosecutor Hunt charged prejudice against Judge Hunt and the circuit court held against Hunt, and he appealed. Cox, after legal entanglements, got his case before Judge Hunt for trial on a charge of perjury.

Another for Belmont.

KEIMPTON PARK, ENGL., April 18.—The Rothschild welter pile of 103 sovereigns, distance one mile, was won yesterday by August Belmont's Sande of the Orient. There were four starters.

Tip Cobb admits he was only fooling them just to have a little fun, when he slowed up—just playing off to conceal his real form. Probably a conspiracy with a hard-pressed newspaper man.

About the last thing Harry Steinfield did with the Cubs before Manager Chance broke the news to him that the deal was off was to hit a home run drive in the exhibition game played at Evansville.

When in Norfolk, Va., the other day, with the Giants, Christy Mathewson declined the offer of the local baseball club, where he found framed on the wall the contract he signed ten years ago calling for a salary of $300.

The Washington club is to do something appropriate. At the suggestion of President Ban Johnson, the forty-six boxes in the center of the new stand are to be named after the States of the Union, instead of being designated by the usual numbers.

A tip to young pitchers: Learn to bat and to fight your position. Manager Clark of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who has called "Bob" Couchman to Los Angeles simply because he can't find better ones. He has been called to the city to be available, but as an infielder he is a member of the awkward squad.

Must be up against a first-base proposition. One sport writer in the Hub suggests that the club should get a new pitcher, but as an infielder he is a member of the awkward squad.

"Boston will upset calculations," says Matt. Instead of the club has improved more than any other club in the league. The "pepper" and life shown by the players are most encouraging. The pennant is beyond us. We are going to make a fight to land in the first division."

RENEW FIRE ON EXPRESS COMPANY

Five New Complaints Are Filed With Commissioner Against Wells-Fargo.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Five new complaints were filed against the Wells-Fargo & Co. express with the State railroad commission yesterday. The most drastic charge is one of a race horse owner, who says the railroad refused to handle his horses and referred him to the express company. At Wells-Fargo's office he was told it would cost him $600 for a car from her to Ogden.

For this service the express company receives 55 per cent of the charges and the railroad receives the remaining 45 per cent for furnishing and hauling the car.

The Eureka market of Hanford also complained to the commission regarding the rates from that city to Coalinga.

A resident of Castroville complained that he was charged $1.10 for expressing one rooster, to be used for breeding purposes, from Petaluma to Castroville, and states that he can send a dozen chickens in a crate to this city for the same rate.

KILLS RIVAL AT ALTAR; CAPTURED AFTER CHASE

NEW YORK, April 18.—Identifying as Robert Urzua, alias "El Jaguar," the Mexican arrested here last month charged with the assassination of Jose Ruesga in the main street of Guadalajara, Mexico, in 1908, Rafael Ruesga, brother of the slain man, told the story of the crime.

Ruesga testified that just before the killing his brother Jose had married a young woman who had previously been courted by Urzua. The civil ceremony had been performed and the couple were on their way to church when Urzua rode on a bicycle and plunged a dagger into the bridegroom's breast.

Kissing his hand to the bride, widowed by his act, Urzua rode off. The slayer was trailed more than 80,000 miles by detectives before he was arrested in this city.

REAPPOINTMENT OPENS

OLD WICKERSHAM FEUD

SEATTLE, April 18.—The reappointment of Herbert L. Faulkner as United States Marshal for Alaska revives the so-called Wickersham-Guggenheim feud. Daniel A. Sutherland was removed as marshal for the Juneau district last April under charges of incompetency and Faulkner appointed in his place. Sutherland was a leader of the insurgent or Wickersham wing of the Alaska Republicans. Delegate James Wickersham was able to hold up Faulkner's appointment by his allegation that Faulkner, who was born in Canada and who went to Alaska from Boston eight years ago, was not an American citizen.

SEEKS FRANCHISE IN REDWOOD CITY

Southern Pacific Makes One
More Move to Extend the Peninsula System.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—That the Southern Pacific has determined to further extend its trolley system on the peninsula is indicated by an application for a franchise made yesterday to the board of trustees of Redwood City by Judge Edward F. Fitzpatrick, the legal representative of the railroad in San Mateo county.

The application made by Fitzpatrick is for a fifty-year franchise for a double track electric road through Redwood City with extensions to the Woodside district.

Since the purchase of the lines in San Jose the Southern Pacific is in control of the electric transportation from that city as far north on the peninsula as Palo Alto. There has never been an authoritative statement from the railroad as to its intentions for extension into San Francisco, although it has been intimated by railroad officials that when this was done it would be with a considerable expenditure of capital to secure a right of way with good grades and absence of curves, reaching into the heart of the city and affording modern rapid transit between San Francisco and the peninsula towns.

E. E. Calvin, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, pleaded lack of information regarding Fitzpatrick's application, when he was questioned on the subject last night.

WHITE SLAVER GETS TWO YEARS IN PRISON

PORTLAND, Ore., April 18.—W. E. Dunlap will have to serve two years on McNeil's island for importing Mrs. Anna Renfro into Oregon from California for immoral purposes. Judge Bean sentenced the young man yesterday, declaring that there was no evidence in the case calling for leniency.

The young man's attorney insisted that Dunlap was a farm boy, recently from Illinois, unsophisticated in the wiles of fast women, and that he had more nearly been the victim of a woman's white slave machinations than guilty of violating the law.

PHI DELTA PHIS ELECT NEOPHYTES

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 18.—Phi Delta Phi, a national law fraternity, which was established at the University of California several years ago, has elected neophytes at its semi-annual meeting. The neophytes are: Watt Willis Clinch, Raymond Wilson Haven, Archibald McNeal Johnson.

For the mother in the home to be strong and well, able to devote her time and strength to the rearing of children, is one of life's greatest blessings. Often the bearing of children injures the mother's health, if she has not prepared her system in advance for the important event.
